Communication NVC are described What We Say Matters Ike K. Lasater, Judith Hanson Lasater, 2016-08-09 Drawing from Buddhist and yogic precepts this practical guide offers tools for becoming a better more compassionate communicator at home at work and in the world. Have you ever tried to tell someone what you want only to feel misunderstood and frustrated Or hesitated to ask for what you needed because you didn't want to burden the other person Or been stuck in blame or anger that wouldn't go away. Judith and Ike Lasater long term students of yoga and Buddhism experienced dilemmas like these too. Even though they had studied the yoga principle of satya truth and the Buddhist precept of right speech it was not until they began practicing Marshall Rosenberg's techniques of Nonviolent Communication NVC that they understood how to live satya and right speech. In What We Say Matters Judith and Ike describe their journey through NVC and how speech becomes a spiritual practice based on giving and receiving with compassion everywhere all the time whether at home at work or in the world. Their writing is deeply personal punctuated by their recounts of trial and error success and failure laughter and challenge even in writing this book. They guide you through an introduction to NVC with clear explanations poignant examples suggested exercises and helpful resources. With practice you'll learn new ways to Extend empathy to yourself and others Distinguish between feelings and needs Make requests rather than demands Choose connection over conflict Create mutually satisfying outcomes

Nonviolent Communication Judson Vonderahe, 2021-04-24 Nonviolent Communication NVC advocates radical self responsibility for what we are experiencing at any given moment. It offers a simple yet effective framework to bring awareness to what we are thinking saying doing and how we are listening so we can connect and communicate with more clarity and compassion. Rather than judging blaming or criticizing we start on neutral common ground to share what's important to us and connect on an empathetic level with others by tuning in to what they are wanting and what's important to them. Integrating NVC tools and principles requires intention and attention especially to break through and transform habitual ways of thinking and communicating into compassionate connections. Through the book parents educators will learn more about children thanks to the educational ways mentioned. What the needs are behind every behavior Provides tools of how to talk differently how to empathize how to be a model for children and have a real presence How to integrate practice and theory How to implement the model into everyday life How to enrich emotional vocabulary which words to use to establish a connection and closeness to myself and others Ideas for activities with children How to implement the nonviolent language at home and in the educational framework through the use of the jackal and giraffe puppets which Dr Marshall used as a metaphor for nonviolent violent communication
