Museums John E. Simmons, 2016-07-07 This comprehensive history of museums begins with the origins of collecting in prehistory and traces the evolution of museums from grave goods to treasure troves from the Alexandrian Temple of the Muses to the Renaissance cabinets of curiosities and onto the diverse array of modern institutions worldwide. The development of museums as public institutions is explored in the context of world history with a special emphasis on the significance of objects and collecting. The book examines how the successful exportation of the European museum model and its international adaptations have created public institutions that are critical tools in diverse societies for understanding the world. Rather than focusing on a specialized aspect of museum history this volume provides a comprehensive synthesis of museums worldwide from their earliest origins to the present. Museums A History tells the fascinating story of how museums respond to the needs of the cultures that create them. Readers will come away with an understanding of the comprehensive history of museums from prehistoric collections to the present. The evolution of museums presented in the context of world history. The development of museums considered in diverse cultural contexts. Global perspective on museums. The object centered history of museums. Museums as memory institutions. A constant theme throughout the book is that museums have evolved to become institutions in which objects and learning are associated to help human beings understand the world around them. Illustrations amplify the discussions. Museums, Their History and Their Use David Murray, 1904

The First Modern Museums of Art Carole Paul, 2012-11-16 In the eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries the first modern public museums of art civic state or national appeared throughout Europe setting a standard for the nature of such institutions that has made its influence felt to the present day. Although the emergence of these museums was an international development their shared history has not been systematically explored until now. Taking up that project this volume includes chapters on fifteen of the earliest and still major examples from the Capitoline Museum in Rome opened in 1734 to the Alte Pinakothek in Munich opened in 1836. These essays consider a number of issues such as the nature display and growth of the museums collections and the role of the institutions in educating the public. The introductory chapters by art historian Carole Paul the volume's editor lay out the relationship among the various museums and discuss their evolution from private noble and royal collections to public institutions. In concert the accounts of the individual museums give a comprehensive overview providing a basis for understanding how the collective emergence of public art museums is indicative of the cultural social and political shifts that mark the transformation from the early modern to the modern world. The fourteen distinguished contributors to the book include Robert G W Anderson former director of the British Museum in
