Organic Form George Sebastian Rousseau,1972 Organic form: the life of an idea George Sebastian Rousseau,1972

Written on the Water Samuel Baker,2010-06-07 Water water is everywhere in Romantic literature but most treatments of the poetry of the period have not adequately registered this fact By situating Romanticism within the historical context of an emergent British maritime empire Baker provides a new way of thinking about literature Written on the Water is a wonderful book as expansive in its attempt to reinterpret Romantic poetry as the nautical horizons it examines Alan Bewell University of Toronto author of Romanticism and Colonial Disease Seed-ideas; First Series Dane Rudhyar,1930 Organising

Poetry David Fairer,2009-06-11 In this revisionary study of the poetry of Coleridge Wordsworth and their friends during the revolutionary decade David Fairer questions the accepted literary history of the period and the critical vocabulary we use to discuss it The book examines why at a time of radical upheaval when continuities of all kinds personal political social and cultural were being challenged this group of poets explored themes of inheritance retrospect revisiting and recovery Organising Poetry charts their struggles to find meaning not through vision and symbol but from connection and dialogue By placing these poets in the context of an eighteenth century organic tradition Fairer moves the emphasis away from the language of idealist Romantic theory towards an empirical stress on how identities are developed and sustained through time Locke s concept of personal identity as a continued organisation partaking of one common life offered not only a model for a reformed British constitution but a way of thinking about the self art and friendship which these poets found valuable The key term therefore is not unity but integrity In this context of a need to sustain and organise diversity and give it meaning the book offers original readings of some well known poems of the 1790s including Wordsworth s Tintern Abbey and The Ruined Cottage and Coleridge s conversation poems The Eolian Harp This Lime Tree Bower and Frost at Midnight Organising Poetry represents an important contribution to current critical debates about the nature of poetic creativity during this period and the need to recognise its more communal and collaborative aspects The Athenæum ,1848 Selections from
