New Museum Theory:

New Museum Theory and Practice Janet Marstine, 2008-04-15 New Museum Theory and Practice is an original collection of essays with a unique focus on the contested politics and ideologies of museum exhibition. It contains 12 original essays that contribute to the field while creating a collective whole for course use. It discusses theory through vivid examples and historical overviews. It offers guidance on how to put theory into practice. It covers a range of museums around the world from art to history, anthropology to music, as well as historic houses, cultural centres, virtual sites, and commercial displays that use the conventions of the museum. Authors come from the UK, Canada, the US, and Australia and from a variety of fields that inform cultural studies.

New Museum Theory and Practice Janet Marstine, 2006 Social Welfare in India and China Jianguo Gao, Rajendra Baikady, Lakshmana Govindappa, Sheng-Li Cheng, 2020-09-01 Focusing on social work and social service delivery, this book examines the social policies and programmes designed to address different societal issues and concerns across India and China. It focuses on gaining understanding of design and delivery of social welfare policies related to special interest groups, highlighting important contemporary challenges such as child labour, child abuse, exploitation of women, problems related to disabled people, mental health issues, illiteracy, and unemployment. Offering a comparative perspective, the book considers the impact of political administration in both countries to critically assess key issues related to social welfare in two different political, economic, social, and cultural contexts.

Keeping Their Marbles Tiffany Jenkins, 2018 The story of how the museums of the West acquired their fabulous collections from the Benin Bronzes to Native American sacred objects and why they should not be returned to the lands or the people from which they came.

New Museum Theory in Practice Amanda Kyser Bryan, 2008 Since the inception of new museum theory and the emphasis it places on the social purpose of museums within society, museum professionals and museum studies theorists have struggled to define what role museums must take in combating prejudices and fostering better understanding of difference. Richard Sandell is one such theorist who writes about the importance of and need for greater inclusion of disabled artists and works of art containing themes of disability into exhibitions and display. This thesis examines Sandell's scholarship, noting its foundation in new museum theory and disability studies, and then employing a case study of the American Visionary Art Museum to illustrate the issues illuminated in Sandell's writing. Finally, utilizing the case study, this thesis will offer aims for further research within museum studies not yet considered by Sandell, especially within educational goals and activities of the museum.

Gender, Sexuality and Museums Amy K. Levin, 2010-09-13 Gender, Sexuality and Museums provides the only repository of key articles, new essays, and case studies for the important area of gender and sexuality in museums. It is the first reader to focus on LGBT issues and museums and the first reader in nearly 15 years to collect articles which focus on women and museums. At last, students of museum studies, women's studies, LGBT studies, and museum professionals have a single resource. The book is organised into three thematic parts, each with its own introduction. Sections focus on women in museum work.

applications of feminist and LGBT theories to museum exhibitions and collections pertaining to women and individuals who are LGBT The Case studies in a fourth part provide different perspectives to key topics such as memorials and memorializing modernism and museums and natural history collections The collection concludes with a bibliographic essay evaluating scholarship to date on gender and sexuality in museums Amy K Levin brings together outstanding articles published in the past as well as new essays The collection's scope is international with articles about US Canadian and European institutions Gender Sexuality and Museums A Routledge Reader is an essential resource for those studying gender and sexuality in the museum
