New Of World Rankings:

Global Rankings and the Geopolitics of Higher Education Ellen Hazelkorn, 2016-11-18 Global rankings and the Geopolitics of Higher Education is an examination of the impact and influence that university rankings have had on higher education policy and public opinion in recent years Bringing together some of the most informed authorities on this very complex issue this edited collection of specially commissioned chapters examines the changes affecting higher education and the implications for society and the economy Split into four interrelated sections this book covers The development of rankings in higher education how they have impacted upon both the production of knowledge and its geography and their influence in shaping policymaking Overviews of the significance of rankings for higher education systems in Europe Asia Africa Russia South America India and North America An analysis of rankings in relation to key concerns that pervade contemporary higher education Examination of the role rankings are likely to play in the future directions for higher education This is a significant scholarly work that analyses in depth an important development in higher education systems and which is likely to have an important influence upon how we understand the higher education policy making process past present and future It provides new analysis and conceptual understanding for researchers and firm evidence for policy makers to use when addressing the value of rankings in measuring the quality of their institutions Besides bringing together a powerful cast of academics this book incorporates contributions from heads of important international higher education organisations from both those involved in making and also in administering key decisions This timely reflective and accessible book forms crucial reading for those studying the subject of rankings as well as the broader implications and unintended consequences of rankings on national higher education policies Extending beyond academic researchers and students this book will also be of significant interest to policymakers higher education leaders and key stakeholders

The Impact of Higher Education Ranking Systems on Universities Kevin Downing, Petrus Johannes Looock, Sarah Gravett, 2021-04-05 This book written by three generations of rankings academics with considerable experience from three very different regions of the globe lifts the lid on the real impact of higher education ranking systems HERS on universities and their stakeholders It critically analyses the criteria that make up the Big Three global ranking systems and using interviews with senior administrators academics and managers discusses their impact on universities from four very different continents Higher education continues to be dominated by a reputational hierarchy of institutions that sustains and is reinforced by HERS Despite all the opinions and arguments about the legitimacy of the rankings as a construct it seems experts agree that they are here to stay The question therefore seems to be less about whether or not universities should be compared and ranked but the manner in which this is undertaken Delivering a fresh perspective on global rankings this book summarizes the development of HERS and provides a critical evaluation of the effects of HERS on four different major regions South Africa the Arab region South East Asia and Australia It will appeal to any academic student university administrator or governing body interested in or affected by global higher education ranking systems The American Legal Profession Christopher P. Banks, 2023-11-10 This book is a tight and fresh analysis of the American legal profession and its significance to society and its citizens The book's primary objective is to expose and correct the principal misconceptions myths surrounding prelaw study law school admission law school and the American legal profession itself These issues are vitally important to prelaw advisors and instructors in light of the difficult problems caused by the Great Recessions of 2008 and 2020 2021 and the disruptions caused by the COVID 19 pandemic Aimed equally at prelaw advisors and potential law students this book can be used as a supplement in the interdisciplinary undergraduate law related instructional market including courses that cater to majors minors in political science and criminal justice in particular It can also be used in career counselling internships and the extensive paralegal program market New to the Second Edition Expanded coverage to include paralegal and legal assistant training New material on women and minority law students who are transforming law schools and the profession Explores challenges to the legal profession posed by economic recession COVID 19 high tuition rates exploding student loan debt internet technological advances and global competitive pressures including legal outsourcing and DIY legal services Updated data and tables along with all underlying research University Rankings Jung Cheol Shin, Robert K. Toutkoushian, Ulrich Teichler, 2011-06-06 This ground breaking and exhaustive analysis of university ranking surveys scrutinizes their theoretical bases methodological issues societal impact and policy implications providing readers with a deep understanding of these controversial comparators The authors propose that university rankings are misused by policymakers and institutional leaders alike They assert that these interested parties overlook the highly problematic internal logic of ranking methodologies even as they obsess over the surveys assessment of their status The result is that institutions suffer from short termism realigning their resources to maximize their relative rankings While rankings are widely used in policy and academic discussions this is the first book to explore the theoretical and methodological issues of ranking itself It is a welcome contribution to an often highly charged debate Far from showing how to manipulate the system this collection of work by key researchers aims to enlighten interested parties Higher Education in the Global Age Daniel Araya, Peter Marber, 2013-11-20 Discussions on globalization now routinely focus on the economic impact of developing countries in Asia Africa the Middle East the former Soviet Union and Latin America Only twenty five years ago many developing countries were largely closed societies Today the growing power of emerging markets is reordering the geopolitical landscape On a purchasing power parity basis emerging economies now constitute half of the world's economic activity Financial markets too are seeing growing integration Asia now accounts for 1/3 of world stock markets more than double that of just 15 years ago Given current trajectories most economists predict that China and India alone will account for half of global output by 2050 almost a complete return to their positions prior to the Industrial Revolution How is higher education shaping and being shaped by these massive tectonic shifts As education rises as a geopolitical priority it has converged with discussions on economic policy and a global labor market As part of the Routledge Studies in Emerging Societies series this edited collection focuses on the globalization of higher education particularly the increasing symbiosis between advanced and developing countries Bringing together senior scholars journalists and practitioners from around the world this collection explores the relatively new and changing higher education landscape U.S. News & World Report ,2006 A List of Geographical Atlases in the Library of Congress: Titles 3266-4087 Library of Congress.
