New Perspectives In Urban Geography:

New Perspectives in Urban Geography Sant Bahadur Singh,1996 Urban Geography has been consistently growing as a systematic branch of reographical knowing Its scope and subject matter has been broadened its analytical focus has been realigned and its analytical tools have been refined The book focuses upon multifaceted themes with regard to status growth and concepts in urban geography urban settlement pattern of urbanization in developing countries The uniqueness of the book lies in managing contributions from schools from developing as well as developed counties The contributions included in this book are indicative of some of the new perspective which urban geography have been studing for quite sometime now

New Perspectives in Geography Lekh Raj Singh,1981 Festschrift honoring P Dayal b 1920 Indian geographer comprises papers on various aspects of geography     Handbook of Population Dudley L. Poston Jr.,2019-04-16 The 2nd edition of the Handbook of Population covers the major topics of the discipline of demography including current substantive methodological and theoretical issues of interest as well as new and emerging topics in the field In addition to revised updated and extended chapters that were included in the 1st edition this 2nd edition of the Handbook brings to the forefront entirely new chapters covering such major themes as children adoption sexuality inequality population psychology rural demography and obesity Chapters in this Handbook will expand our knowledge of the field and will raise awareness of the causes and the consequences of demographic behavior and events in societies throughout the world This 2nd edition will also serve as a reference in the field of population studies for years to come It will generate new questions and research ideas and will positively impact the growth development and expansion of demography     The Urban Forest in the Age of Urbanisation Samaneh Sadat Nickain,2022-09-01 The Urban Forest in the Age of Urbanization seeks to reflect on the connotation of urban forestry in line with related emergent holistic theories Today much of the planet is urbanised and planners debate Planetary Urbanization economists discuss The Global City ecologists describe the planet s biodiversity hotspots and climate scientists warn of a global crisis We might think therefore that focusing on forestation approaches at the Urban and peri urban edge might be reductionist However if the city is everywhere and everything is a city if the urbanised world now is a chain of metropolitan areas connected by places and corridors of communication then what is not urban And above all which forests are not urban forests Starting from the dualism between city and forest and its evolution towards holism the book seeks to create a framework of dialectical approaches The case studies included analyse a wide range of urbanisation processes to review the practical approaches of urban forestry in line with the global crisis of the era of globalisation when climate change population growth implosions and explosions of urbanisation lack of arable land and food are unavoidable     The Palgrave Encyclopedia of Urban and Regional Futures Robert C. Brears,2023-01-13 While urban settlements are the drivers of the global economy and centres of learning culture and innovation and nations rely on competitive dynamic regions for their economic social and environmental objectives urban centres and regions face a myriad of challenges that impact the ways in which people live and work create wealth and interact and connect with places Rapid urbanisation is resulting in urban sprawl rising emissions urban poverty and high unemployment rates housing affordability issues lack of urban investment low urban financial and governance capacities rising inequality and urban crimes environmental degradation increasing vulnerability to natural disasters and so forth At the regional level low employment low wage growth scarce financial resources climate change waste and pollution and rising urban peri urban competition etc are impacting the ability of regions to meet socio economic development goals while protecting biodiversity The response to these challenges has typically been the application of inadequate or piecemeal solutions often as a result of fragmented decision making and competing priorities with numerous economic environmental and social consequences In response there is a growing movement towards viewing cities and regions as complex and sociotechnical in nature with people and communities interacting with one another and with objects such as roads buildings transport links etc within a range of urban and regional settings or contexts This comprehensive MRW will provide readers with expert interdisciplinary knowledge on how urban centres and regions in locations of varying climates lifestyles income levels and stages development are creating synergies and reducing trade offs in the development of resilient resource efficient environmentally friendly liveable socially equitable integrated and technology enabled centres and regions

AC01401231],1995      Urban Socio-Economic Segregation and Income Inequality Maarten van Ham,Tiit Tammaru,Rūta Ubarevičienė,Heleen Janssen,2021-03-29 This open access book investigates the link between income inequality and socio economic residential segregation in 24 large urban regions in Africa Asia Australia Europe North America and South America It offers a unique global overview of segregation trends based on case studies by local author teams The book shows important global trends in segregation and proposes a Global Segregation Thesis Rising inequalities lead to rising levels of socio economic segregation almost everywhere in the world Levels of inequality and segregation are higher in cities in lower income countries but the growth in inequality and segregation is faster in cities in high income countries This is causing convergence of segregation trends Professionalisation of the workforce is leading to changing residential patterns High income workers are moving to city centres or to attractive coastal areas and gated communities while poverty is increasingly suburbanising As a result the urban geography of inequality changes faster and is more pronounced than changes in segregation levels Rising levels of inequality and segregation pose huge challenges for the future social sustainability of cities as cities are no longer places of opportunities for all     Urban Remote Sensing Xaojun X. Yang,2021-10-06 Urban Remote Sensing The second edition of Urban Remote Sensing is a state of the art review of the latest progress in the subject The text examines how evolving innovations in remote sensing allow to deliver the critical information on cities in a timely and cost effective way to support various urban management activities and the scientific research on urban morphology socio environmental dynamics and sustainability Chapters are written by leading scholars from a variety of disciplines including remote sensing GIS geography urban planning environmental science and sustainability science with case studies predominately drawn from North America and Europe A review of the essential and emerging research areas in urban remote sensing including sensors techniques and applications especially some critical issues that are shifting the directions in urban remote sensing research Illustrated in full color throughout including numerous relevant case studies and extensive discussions of important concepts and cutting edge technologies to enable clearer understanding for non technical audiences Urban Remote Sensing Second Edition will be of particular interest to upper division undergraduate and graduate students researchers and professionals working in the fields of remote sensing geospatial information and urban environmental planning     Cities, Neighborhoods, and Houses Kathryn Elizabeth Keith,1999     Urban Geography ,1988     Urban Morphology ,2000     Environment and Planning ,1987     Announcements University of Chicago,1972
