New Racism Norma Romm,2014-10-17 This book develops a debate around responsible social inquiry into new racism A variety of ways of researching new forms of racism for example aversive modern cultural purportedly color blind and new racism are addressed Experiments that have been undertaken to inquire into group identity and people s implicit bias in relation to those perceived as other are critically explored and their potential consequences reconsidered The book also critically explores survey research which it is argued can serve to reinforce the notion of the existence of ethnoracial groups with defined boundaries that inhere in social life The book considers interviewing including focus group interviewing and case study research including participant observation ethnography in terms of possibilities for moving beyond new forms of racism Action research defined by the understanding of an inextricable link between knowing and acting is examined in depth in terms of the hopes to make a difference at the moment of inquiry Types of retroductive logic that are used to examine underlying structures that arguably unduly constrain people's life chances and render human relationships inhumane are also explored The book draws together the different arguments and it proposes ways in which the design of research into new racism can be better approached as well as ways in which dialogue around processes of inquiry and the products thereof can be better fostered Suggestions for nurturing humane social relationships that provide for transcultural meaning making are threaded through the text Hip-hop Revolution Jeffrey Ogbonna Green Ogbar, 2007 As hip hop artists constantly struggle to keep it real this fascinating study examines the debates over the core codes of hip hop authenticity as it reflects and reacts to problematic black images in popular culture placing hip hop in its proper cultural political and social contexts
