Young People in a Digitalised World Europarat,2018 Youth participation in the digitalised world is nowadays a topic of high interest in the public sphere The authors of this publication aim to bring new perspectives and varied visions to the key questions of understanding how young people interact with all the opportunities the digital space has to offer and how they can use this space for causes relevant not only for themselves but also for the democratisation of the societies in which they live By doing so the authors strive to build knowledge on this topic illustrating how the digitalisation of contemporary European societies simultaneously offers significant opportunities and poses considerable challenges Publisher s description Tanzania and Unesco,2017 Digital Citizenship Education Divina Frau-Meigs,Brian O'Neill,Alessandro

Soriani,Vitor Tomé,Janice Patricia Richardson,Elizabeth Miloovidov,2017 Most young people in Europe today were born and have grown up in the digital era Education authorities have the duty to ensure that these digital citizens are fully aware of the norms of appropriate behaviour when using constantly evolving technology and participating in digital life Despite worldwide efforts to address such issues there is a clear need for education authorities to take the lead on digital citizenship education and integrate it into school curricula In 2016 the Education Department of the Council of Europe began work to develop new policy orientations and strategies to help educators face these new challenges and to empower young people by helping them to acquire the competences they need to participate actively and responsibly in digital society This volume the first in a Digital Citizenship Education series reviews the existing academic and policy literature on digital citizenship education highlighting definitions actors and stakeholders competence frameworks practices emerging trends and challenges The inclusion of a wide selection of sources is intended to ensure sufficient coverage of what is an emergent topic that has yet to gain a strong foothold in either education or academic literature but has received wider policy attention Digital

Youth, Innovation, and the Unexpected Tara McPherson,2008 How emergent practices and developments in young people s digital media can result in technological innovation or lead to unintended learning experiences and unanticipated social encounters Young people s use of digital media may result in various innovations and unexpected outcomes from the use of videogame technologies to create films to the effect of home digital media on family life This volume examines the core issues that arise when digital media use results in unintended learning experiences and unanticipated social encounters The contributors examine the complex mix of emergent practices and developments online and elsewhere that empower young users to function as drivers of technological change recognizing that these new technologies are embedded in larger social systems school family friends The chapters consider such topics as un equal access across economic racial and ethnic lines media panics and social anxieties policy and Internet protocols media literacy citizenship vs consumption creativity and collaboration digital media and gender equity shifting notions of temporality and defining the public private divide

Contributors Steve Anderson Anne Balsamo Justine Cassell Meg Cramer Robert A Heverly Paula K Hooper Sonia Livingstone Henry Lowood Robert Samuels Christian Sandvig Ellen Seiter Sarita Yardi Youth, Identity, and Digital Media David Buckingham, 2008 The contributors explore how young people use digital media to share ideas and creativity and to participate in networks that are small and large local and global intimate and anonymous They look at the emergence of new genres and forms from SMS and instant messaging to home pages blogs and social networking sites They discuss such topics as girl power online the generational digital divide young people and mobile communication and the appeal of the digital publics of MySpace considering whether these media offer young people genuinely new forms of engagement interaction and communication

BOOK JACKET Digital Religion, Social Media, and Culture Pauline Hope Cheong, 2012 This anthology the first of its kind in eight years collects some of the best and most current research and reflection on the complex interactions between religion and computer mediated communication CMC The contributions cohere around the central question how will core religious understandings of identity community and authority shape and be re shaped by the communicative possibilities of Web 2.0 The authors gathered here address these questions in three distinct ways through contemporary empirical research on how diverse traditions across the globe seek to take up the technologies and affordances of contemporary CMC through investigations that place these contemporary developments in larger historical and theological contexts and through careful reflection on the theoretical dimensions of research on religion and CMC In their introductory and concluding essays the editors uncover and articulate the larger intersections and patterns suggested by individual chapters including trajectories for future research Spectra, 2001
