My House Has Two Doors:

Making the Foreign Serve China Anne-Marie Brady, 2003 This book provides the first detailed analysis of a distinctive element of Chinese foreign policy waishi the external policies intended to influence and control both foreigners themselves as well as Chinese citizens contact with and perception of outsiders The term also comprises China s external relations both official state to state and unofficial or people to people diplomacy Anne Marie Brady argues that by encompassing all matters related to foreigners and foreign things not merely diplomacy waishi has proven to be one of the most effective tools in the CCP s repertoire for building and then sustaining its hold on power The author s groundbreaking research is based on a previously unexplored genre of classified waishi materials extensive interviews with waishi officials and foreign participants of the system as well as extensive archival research

China-Swiss Relations during the Cold War, 1949-1989 Cyril Cordoba, 2022-07-01 During the Cold War Switzerland functioned as a hub for Chinese propaganda networks Despite its fierce anti communism the Swiss Confederation was one of the first capitalist countries to recognise the People s Republic of China PRC As a neutral country and as the home base for many international organisations Switzerland represented a strategic centre for the spread of Maoism throughout the world Focusing on cultural diplomacy and questioning the notion of soft power this book explores how the PRC developed its influence and its prestige abroad through its Embassy in Bern the most important in Western Europe The book also discusses how China s approach in Switzerland bypassing traditional diplomatic structures and relying on contacts with individual people foreign friends was then used and continues to be used in many other countries including the United States France and Japan

Malaysian Crossings Cheow Thia Chan, 2022-12-27 Malaysian Chinese Mahua literature is marginalized on several fronts In the international literary space which privileges the West Malaysia is considered remote The institutions of modern Chinese literature favor mainland China Taiwan and Hong Kong Within Malaysia only texts in Malay the national language are considered national literature by the state However Mahua authors have produced creative and thought provoking works that have won growing critical recognition showing Malaysia to be a laboratory for imaginative Chinese writing Highlighting Mahua literature s distinctive mode of evolution Cheow Thia Chan demonstrates that authors grasp of their marginality in the world Chinese literary space has been the impetus for rather than a barrier to aesthetic inventiveness He foregrounds the historical links between Malaysia and other Chinese speaking regions tracing how Mahua writers engage in the worlding of modern Chinese literature by navigating interconnected literary spaces Focusing on writers including Lin Cantian Han Suyin Wang Anyi and Li Yongping whose works craft signature literary languages Chan examines narrative representations of multilingual social realities and authorial reflections on colonial Malaya or independent Malaysia as valid literary terrain Delineating the inter Asian crossings of Mahua literary production physical journeys interactions among social groups and mindset shifts from the 1930s to the 2000s he contends that new perspectives from the periphery are essential to understanding the globalization of modern Chinese literature By emphasizing the inner diversities and connected histories in the margins Malaysian Crossings offers a powerful argument for remapping global Chinese literature and world literature Publications of the Historical Society of Southern California, 1907 Out West Charles Fletcher Lummis, 1909 Contains monthly column of the Sequoia League Biographical Dictionary of Chinese Women Lily Xiao Hong Lee, A.
