Knowledge-Based Intelligent Information and Engineering Systems Mircea Gh. Negoita, 2004-10-14 We were very pleased to once again extend to the delegates and we are pleased to say our friends the warmest of welcomes to the 8 International Conference on Knowledge Based Intelligent Information and Engineering Systems at Wellington Institute of Technology in Wellington New Zealand The KES conferences attract a wide range of interest The broad focus of the conference series is the theory and applications of computational intelligence and emergent technologies Once purely a research field intelligent systems have advanced to the point where their abilities have been incorporated into many conventional application areas The quest to encapsulate human knowledge and capabilities in domains such as reasoning problem solving sensory analysis and other complex areas has been avidly pursued This is because it has been demonstrated that these abilities have definite practical applications The techniques long ago reached the point where they are being exploited to provide commercial advantages for companies and real beneficial effects on profits KES 2004 provided a valuable mechanism for delegates to obtain a profound view of the latest intelligent systems research into a range of algorithms tools and techniques KES 2004 also gave delegates the chance to come into contact with those applying intelligent systems in diverse commercial areas The combination of theory and practice represents a uniquely valuable opportunity for appreciating the full spectrum of intelligent systems activity and the state of the art

Advanced Methods for Knowledge Discovery from Complex Data Ujjwal Maulik, Lawrence B. Holder, Diane J. Cook, 2006-05-06 The growth in the amount of data collected and generated has exploded in recent times with the widespread automation of various day to day activities advances in high level scientific and engineering research and the development of efficient data collection tools This has given rise to the need for automatically analyzing the data in order to extract knowledge from it thereby making the data potentially more useful Knowledge discovery and data mining KDD is the process of identifying valid novel potentially useful and ultimately understandable patterns from massive data repositories It is a multi disciplinary topic drawing from several fields including expert systems machine learning intelligent databases knowledge acquisition case based reasoning pattern recognition and statistics Many data mining systems have typically evolved around well organized database systems e.g relational databases containing relevant information But more and more one finds relevant information hidden in unstructured text and in other complex forms Mining in the domains of the world wide web bioinformatics geoscientific data and spatial and temporal applications comprise some illustrative examples in this regard Discovery of knowledge or potentially useful patterns from such complex data often requires the application of advanced techniques that are better able to exploit the nature and representation of the data Such advanced methods include among others graph based and tree based approaches to relational learning sequence mining link based classification Bayesian networks hidden Markov models neural networks kernel based methods evolutionary algorithms rough sets and fuzzy logic and hybrid systems Many of these methods are developed in the following chapters

Networked Governance and Transatlantic Relations Gabriella Paar-Jakli, 2014-04-29 In today's complex and interconnected world scholars of international relations seek to better understand challenges spurred by intensified global communication and interaction The complex connectedness of modern society and politics compels us to investigate the pattern of interconnections among actors who inhabit social and political spaces Gabriella Paar-Jakli's study aims to advance theory and practice by examining the networks used by specialists in North America and Europe to achieve their policy goals in the area of science and technology Her book suggests that to overcome policy problems transnationally three critical factors should be considered First as science and technology policy becomes increasingly critical to resolving global issues it should be regarded as an integral element of the foreign policy process Second as liberal international relations theory argues the increasing role of NGOs must be taken seriously alongside states as vital agents of policy reform Third as transatlantic relations remain center to maintaining the global order they must be reconsidered Paar-Jakli assesses the role of digital networks as facilitators of regional cooperation Utilizing various techniques of social network analysis her research indicates an active and structurally discernible network in cyberspace among transatlantic organizations and demonstrates the role of virtual networks as facilitators of cooperative arrangements in transatlantic relations Paar-Jakli's original research uses social network analysis to investigate transatlantic cooperation a new approach that will be noteworthy to network and transatlantic scholars as well as policymakers
