McDonald,2007-12-21 Personal and reflective essays that describe how particular works whether papers books or demos from classics to forgotten gems have influenced each writer s approach to HCI Over almost three decades the field of human computer interaction HCI has produced a rich and varied literature Although the focus of attention today is naturally on new work older contributions that played a role in shaping the trajectory and character of the field have much to tell us The contributors to HCI Remixed were asked to reflect on a single work at least ten years old that influenced their approach to HCI The result is this collection of fifty one short engaging and idiosyncratic essays reflections on a range of works in a variety of forms that chart the emergence of a new field An article a demo a book any of these can solve a problem demonstrate the usefulness of a new method or prompt a shift in perspective HCI Remixed offers us glimpses of how this comes about The contributors consider such HCI classics as Sutherland s Sketchpad Englebart s demo of NLS and Fitts on Fitts Law and such forgotten gems as Pulfer s NRC Music Machine and Galloway and Rabinowitz s Hole in Space Others reflect on works somewhere in between classic and forgotten Kidd s The Marks Are on the Knowledge Worker King Beach s Becoming a Bartender and others Some contributors turn to works in neighboring disciplines Henry Dreyfuss s book on industrial design for example and some range farther afield to Lovelock s Gaia hypothesis and Jane Jacobs s The Death and Life of Great American Cities Taken together the essays offer an accessible lively and engaging introduction to HCI research that reflects the diversity of the field s beginnings A Computer-based Instructional Support Network Henry Simpson,1990 Bowling Alone: Revised and Updated Robert D. Putnam,2020-10-13 The basis for the documentary Join or Die now streaming on Netflix Updated to include a new chapter about the influence of social media and the Internet the 20th anniversary edition of Bowling Alone remains a seminal work of social analysis and its examination of what happened to our sense of community remains more relevant than ever in today s fractured America Twenty years ago Robert D Putnam made a seemingly simple observation once we bowled in leagues usually after work but no longer This seemingly small phenomenon symbolized a significant social change that became the basis of the acclaimed bestseller Bowling Alone which The Washington Post called a very important book and Putnam the de Tocqueville of our generation Bowling Alone surveyed in detail Americans changing behavior over the decades showing how we had become increasingly disconnected from family friends neighbors and social structures whether it s with the PTA church clubs political parties or bowling leagues In the revised edition of his classic work Putnam shows how our shrinking access to the social capital that is the reward of communal activity and community sharing still poses a serious threat to our civic and personal health and how these consequences have a new resonance for our divided country today He includes critical new material on the pervasive influence of social media and the internet which has introduced previously unthinkable opportunities for social connection as well as unprecedented levels of alienation and isolation At the time of its publication Putnam s then groundbreaking work showed how social bonds are the most powerful predictor of life satisfaction and how the loss of social capital is felt in critical ways acting as a strong predictor of crime rates and other measures of neighborhood quality of life and affecting our health in other ways While the ways in which we connect or become disconnected have changed over the decades his central argument remains as powerful and urgent as ever mending our frayed social capital is key to preserving the very fabric of our society Communication Yearbooks Vols 6-33 Set Various,2021-12-02 The Communication Yearbook annuals originally published between 1977 and 2009 publish diverse state of the discipline literature reviews that advance knowledge and understanding of communication systems processes and impacts across the discipline Topics dealt with include Communication as Process Research Methodology in Communication Communication Effects Taxonomy of Communication and European Communication Theory Information Systems Division Mass Communication Research Mapping the Domain of Intercultural Communication Public Relations Feminist Scholarship Communication Law and Policy Visual Communication Communication and Cross Sex Friendships Across the Life Cycle Television Programming and Sex Stereotyping InterCultural Communication Training Leadership and Relationships Media Performance Assessment Cognitive Approaches to Communication Readings in Groupware and Computer-supported Cooperative Work Ronald M.
