Displaying Death and Animating Life Jane C. Desmond,2016-08-18 The number of ways in which humans interact with animals is almost incalculable From beloved household pets to the steak on our dinner tables the fur in our closets to the Babar books on our shelves taxidermy exhibits to local zoos humans have complex deep and dependent relationships with the animals in our ecosystems In Displaying Death and Animating Life Jane C Desmond puts those human animal relationships under a multidisciplinary lens focusing on the less obvious and revealing the individualities and subjectivities of the real animals in our everyday lives Desmond a pioneer in the field of animal studies builds the book on a number of case studies She conducts research on site at major museums taxidermy conventions pet cemeteries and even at a professional conference for writers of obituaries She goes behind the scenes at zoos wildlife clinics and meetings of pet cemetery professionals We journey with her as she meets Kanzi the bonobo artist and a host of other animal artists all of whom are preparing their artwork for auction Throughout Desmond moves from a consideration of the visual display of unindividuated animals to mourning for known animals and finally to the marketing of artwork by individual animals The first book in the new Animal Lives series Displaying Death and Animating Life is a landmark study bridging disciplines and reaching across divisions from the humanities and social sciences to chart new territories of investigation Extreme Cuisine Jerry Hopkins, 2019-05-28 I could not have written A Cook's Tour without this book There is so much I would have missed So dig in Enjoy Eat Eat adventurously Miss nothing It's all here in these pages From the Foreword by Anthony Bourdain Sit down for a meal with the locals on six continents what they are eating may surprise you Extreme Cuisine examines eating habits across the globe showing once and for all that one man's road kill is another man's delicacy I've tried to make this book a guide to how the other half dines and why Over a period of twenty five years I've augmented my meat and potatoes upbringing in the United States to try a wide variety of regional specialties from steamed water beetles fried grasshoppers and ants to sparrow bison and crocodile I've eaten deep fried bull's testicles in Mexico live shrimp sushi in Hawaii mice cooked over an open wood fire in Thailand pig stomach soup in Singapore minced water buffalo and yak butter tea in Nepal stir fried dog tongue and five penis wine in China From the introduction by Jerry Hopkins Dive headfirst into food culture from around the world Join author Jerry Hopkins on a culinary and cultural tour as he explores foods that may seem bizarre and often off putting to us As he says What is considered repulsive to someone in one part of the world in another part of the world is simply considered lunch Part travelogue part cultural commentary and history and part cookbook yes really with Extreme Cuisine anyone can become an adventurous eater or at least learn what it's like to be one Chapters include Mammals Reptiles Water Creatures Birds Insects Spiders Scorpions Plants Leftovers Books in Print, 1991 Cafe Indiana Joanne Raetz Stuttgart, 2007-09-05 Cafe Indiana is both a guide to Indiana's hometown mom and pop restaurants and a reclamation and celebration of small town Midwest culture The hungry diner looking for adventure and authenticity can use Cafe Indiana simply as a guide to the state's quintessential eats the best fiddlers macaroni and cheese soup beans and beef Manhattan But Stuttgart also captures the spirit of the locals bringing to life the people whose stories give the book and the food its soul Over plates of chicken and noodles fried bologna sandwiches and sugar cream pie folks are crafting community at the Main Street eatery In Cafe Indiana Hoosiers and out of staters alike are invited to pull out a chair and sit a spell Regional American Food Culture Lucy M. Long, 2009-10-13 Regional American food culture still exists and is strongest in more rural homogenous areas of the country Regional foods are a major component of regional identities and Americans make a big to do about their home grown favorites The current food cultures of the major American regions northeast New England the Mid Atlantic the South the West the Midwest and subregions are illuminated here like never before Everyone knows something about the iconic fare of a region such as Soul Food in the South and New England clam bakes but with this resource readers are able to delve wider and deeper into how Americans from Alaska to Hawaii to the Amish country of the Midwest to the Eastern Seaboard sustain themselves and what their food lifestyles are today The unique regional food cultures that have developed according to natural resources and population are increasingly affected by social and economic trends Increasingly mobile Americans generally have access to the same fast food and supermarket chain offerings read the same mass market food magazines and watch the cable food shows and younger generations may have less time to continue family food traditions such as baking the ethnic breads and desserts that their mothers did Regional American Food Culture discusses the various traditions within the context of a new millennium Narrative chapters describe the background of the regional food culture what the primary foods are how the food is cooked and by whom what the typical meals are how food is used in special occasions and diet and health issues in the regions A chronology resource guide selected bibliography and illustrations complement the text

The Original Road Kill Cookbook B.R. Peterson,1987-05-01 In his inimitable style Buck Peterson takes the reader to such far flung well hung places as Azerbaijan and the Isle of Gilligan to enjoy foodstuffs once known only to a small handful of well heeled heels The International Cookbook teaches the where and how to practice roadkill skills on foreign soil details the food customs and traditions of the home country and serves the most popular recipes prepared in Buck s own roadside test kitchens The recipes include the popular UK dish Bangered and Mashed Chili s national dish Chili Con Carnage Pakistan s Chicken Peeloff and Germany s Hasenpflaten
