The Johns Hopkins University circular, 1885 Empirical Studies in Institutional Change Lee J. Alston, Práinn Eggertsson, Douglass C. North, 1996-07-28 Empirical Studies in Institutional Change is a collection of nine empirical studies by fourteen scholars Dealing with issues ranging from the evolution of secure markets in seventeenth century England to the origins of property rights in airport slots in modern America the contributors analyse institutions and institutional change in various parts of the world and at various periods of time The volume is a contribution to the new economics of institutions which emphasises the role of transaction costs and property rights in shaping incentives and results in the economic arena To make the papers accessible to a wide audience including students of economics and other social sciences the editors have written an introduction to each study and added three theoretical essays to the volume including Douglass North's Nobel Prize address which reflect their collective views as to the present status of institutional analysis and where it is headed Methods of Historical Study Herbert Baxter Adams, 1884 Mining Camps and Mining Districts Charles Shinn, 2015-06-13 Leading mining historian Kerby Jackson introduces us to a classic mining publication on the history of mining camps and mining districts First released in 1885 by Charles Howard Shinn under the title Mining Camps A Study in American Frontier Government this publication offers a unique look at how early gold miners established their own forms of representative government during the California Gold Rush Drawing on the the early mining codes of medieval German miners in the Harz Mountains on the mining customs of the Cornish tin miners and early Spanish mining laws introduced into California the miners established the first governments in the American West Note This edition is a perfect facsimile of the
