James B. Twitchell,2002-04-03 Economic downturns and terrorist attacks notwithstanding America s love affair with luxury continues unabated Over the last several years luxury spending in the United States has been growing four times faster than overall spending It has been characterized by political leaders as vital to the health of the American economy as a whole even as an act of patriotism Accordingly indices of consumer confidence and purchasing seem unaffected by recession This necessary consumption of unnecessary items and services is going on at all but the lowest layers of society J C Penney now offers day spa treatments Kmart sells cashmere bedspreads So many products are claiming luxury status today that the credibility of the category itself is strained for example the name pashmina had to be invented to top mere cashmere We see luxury everywhere in storefronts advertisements even in the workings of our imaginations But what is it How is it manufactured on the factory floor and in the minds of consumers Who cares about it and who buys it And how concerned should we be that luxuries are commanding a larger and larger percentage of both our disposable income and our aspirations Trolling the upscale malls of America making his way toward the Mecca of Las Vegas James B Twitchell comes to some remarkable conclusions The democratization of luxury he contends has been the single most important marketing phenomenon of our times In the pages of Living It Up Twitchell commits the academic heresy of paying respect to popular luxury consumption as a force that has united the country and the globe in a way that no war movement or ideology ever has What s more he claims the shopping experience for Americans today has its roots in the spiritual the religious and the transcendent Deft and subtle writing audacious ideas and a fine sense of humor inform this entertaining and insightful book
