Minding Minds:

Minding Minds Radu J. Bogdan, 2003-08-11 Drawing on philosophical psychological and evolutionary perspectives Bogdan analyzes how primates create the resources for metamentation the ability of the mind to think about its own thoughts Mental reflexivity or metamentation a mind thinking about its own thoughts underpins reflexive consciousness deliberation self evaluation moral judgment the ability to think ahead and much more Yet relatively little in philosophy or psychology has been written about what metamentation actually is or about why and how it came about In this book Radu Bogdan proposes that humans think reflexively because they interpret each other's minds in social contexts of cooperation communication education politics and so forth As naive psychology interpretation was naturally selected among primates as a battery of practical skills that preceded language and advanced thinking Metamentation began as interpretation mentally rehearsed through mental sharing of attitudes and information about items of common interest interpretation conspired with mental rehearsal to develop metamentation Drawing on philosophical psychological and evolutionary perspectives Bogdan analyzes the main phylogenetic and ontogenetic stages through which primates abilities to interpret other minds evolve and gradually create the opportunities and resources for metamentation Contrary to prevailing views he concludes that metamentation benefits from but is not a predetermined outcome of logical abilities language and consciousness

Predicative Minds

Radu J. Bogdan, 2009-01-09 An exploration of why and how the human competence for predication came to be The predicative mind singles out and represents an item in order to attribute to it a property a relation an action an evaluation it thinks and says of a house that it is big of a car that it is to the left of the house of a cat that it is about to jump of a hypothesis that it is plausible The capacity to predicate appears to be neither innate nor learned yet it is universal among humans Puzzling in evolutionary developmental and philosophical terms the mental competence for predication still awaits a coherent and plausible explanation In this exploration of the predicative roots of human thinking Radu Bogdan takes up the challenge Bogdan argues that predication is not only an outcome of development but also a by product of uniquely human features of development many of them social in nature and unrelated to representation cognition and thinking Humans develop predicative minds for disparate reasons which bear initially on physiological coregulation affective and manipulative communication and the socially shared acquisition of words Once developed the competence for predication in turn redesigns human thinking and communication Predication is at the heart of conscious deliberate explicit and language based human thinking and it is the fuel of higher mental activities Understanding the uniqueness and representational power of the human mind Bogdan contends requires an explanation of why and how predication came to be
