Successful Meetings, 2006    The Millennium Hotel Mark Rudman, 1996 In this captivating sequel to his award winning Rider Mark Rudman reclaims a sacred space for poetry. The Millennium Hotel is a world of dazzling imitations, a vast casino where personal narrative is recognized as a fiction and death always holds the winning hand. Rudman asks How not to be seduced by the new as he illustrates the intimate ways in which facade, gender and memory inform both our private and public realms. Here the interlocutor's voice shifts and freely crosses gender lines especially in poems about early erotic experience. Mothers, daughters, lovers and wives are passionately engaged. Its inclusiveness and wide range of tonal registers enable The Millennium Hotel to blend seamlessly the intimate, the social, the comic and the apocalyptic. The book moves like a series of sonatas melding childhood, the diaspora and eros.

The Shadow That Follows Me Dr. Talib Kafawi, 2025-10-07 There are two systems operating inside our soul. A duality older than any institution, older even than language. One is the benevolent system which tends to be compassionate, kind and caring. The other system is the wicked or evil system. Sadly enough, the second system, the evil one, is the most prominent in our lives today. Psychologically, the evil system runs the world. Why does evil control our behaviors? That question haunts the corners of both science and spirituality. The answer is both simple and complex: evil is woven into who we are and its complexity lies in how deeply it has shaped our evolution. It's deep in our unconscious mind and the conscious mind refused to recognize it. That is the shadow follow us.
