Experiencing and Explaining Disease Open University, Open University. U205 Course Team, 1985 Experiencing and Explaining Disease examines the different accounts of disease causation produced by research in epidemiology biology and sociology and the different meanings attached to states of illness by doctors patients and the media It explores the ways in which prevailing social norms affect the status of the sick person and seeks explanations for the stigmatisation that discriminates against people with certain conditions while others are considered innocent victims of disease These themes are developed in five case studies of highly contrasting conditions rheumatoid arthritis HIV and AIDS asthma schizophrenia and chronic pain These case studies illustrate the complex difficulties for lay people and professionals in explaining and managing the disease and the physical social and emotional dimensions of the illness experience This book will be an invaluable text for students of health studies social work social policy the social sciences medicine nursing and other health professionals and for a wide range of lay people including patients and carers

Spacious Minds Sara E. Lewis, 2020-02-15 Spacious Minds argues that resilience is not a mere absence of suffering Sara E Lewis's research reveals how those who cope most gracefully may indeed experience deep pain and loss Looking at the Tibetan diaspora she challenges perspectives that liken resilience to the hardness of physical materials suggesting people should bounce back from adversity More broadly this ethnography calls into question the tendency to use trauma as an organizing principle for all studies of conflict where suffering is understood as an individual problem rooted in psychiatric illness Beyond simply articulating the ways that Tibetan categories of distress are different from biomedical ones Spacious Minds shows how Tibetan Buddhism frames new possibilities for understanding resilience Here the social and religious landscape encourages those exposed to violence to see past events as impermanent and illusory where debriefing working through or processing past events only solidifies suffering and may even cause illness Resilience in Dharmasala is understood as sems pa chen po a vast and spacious mind that does not fixate on individual problems but rather uses suffering as an opportunity to generate compassion for others in the endless cycle of samsara A big mind view helps to see suffering in life as ordinary And yet an intriguing paradox occurs As Lewis deftly demonstrates Tibetans in exile have learned that human rights campaigns are predicated on the creation and circulation of the trauma narrative in this way Tibetan activists utilize foreign trauma discourse not for psychological healing but as a political device and act of agency The Mysterious Life of the Body Jennifer Bullington,1999 Seminars in Consultation-Liaison Psychiatry Rachel Thomasson,Elspeth Guthrie,Allan House,2024-01-18 Consultation liaison psychiatry has evolved rapidly in the last decade with significant expansion of services across the UK Now in its third edition Seminars in Consultation Liaison Psychiatry provides a current comprehensive practically orientated guide that covers clinical topics education service development audit and research New and updated chapter topics cover the presentation diagnosis and management of common conditions and chapters on organisational topics provide insights into developing and managing the context within which practice takes place Each chapter is informed by the latest research while remaining hands on in its focus structured around common clinical scenarios that liaison staff encounter in hospital settings A practical guide this book is packed with essential reading for clinicians working at the interface between mental and physical healthcare
