to their safety and experiencing the devastating effects of catastrophes. As a result, the prevalence of PTSD in this group can be as high as 20 percent. Volunteer firefighters may have even higher rates because they don't have access to the same level of support as career firefighters. Healthcare workers, especially those working in emergency rooms and intensive care units, are also at higher risk. For example, nurses working in critical care units are more likely to develop PTSD than nurses in other groups. In addition, while senior level nurses report fewer PTSD symptoms than junior ones, they report higher rates of burnout. Finally, healthcare workers exposed to patients that have experienced violence, such as an assault victim, are more likely to develop PTSD than surgeons who treat assault victims. Rescue workers, medical workers, and volunteers who act as first responders during disasters witness the aftermath of horrific events and can even become involved in severe traumatic events. The prevalence of PTSD in these individuals has been estimated to be between 15 and 30 percent. Journalists who work as war correspondents are at higher risk of being injured, killed, or kidnapped. Their lifetime prevalence of PTSD, which can be as high as 30 percent, reflects their lack of access to support and PTSD treatment options. Transit and train operators are frequently exposed to physical threats and witness suicide incidents, such as person under train events. Exposure to these traumatic and threatening circumstances can be a daily or weekly occurrence. Bus drivers are more prone to PTSD because they have more direct contact with the general public than train drivers, locked in secure train cabs. In these high-risk professions, the incidence of trauma declines when policies are in place to debrief victims, give victims immediate access to counseling, and screen for individuals at high risk of having adverse reactions to traumatic conditions.

Treatment Improvement Protocol (TIP) 63: Medications for Opioid Use Disorder Substance Abuse Mental Health Services Administration/SAMHSA (U.S.), 2018-06-05 This Treatment Improvement Protocol (TIP) reviews the use of the three Food and Drug Administration (FDA) approved medications used to treat opioid use disorder (OUD): methadone, naltrexone, and buprenorphine, and provides guidance for healthcare professionals and addiction treatment providers on appropriate prescribing practices for these medications and effective strategies for supporting the patients utilizing medication for the treatment of OUD. Trauma Healing Guide Gerald Kiesman, 2017-02-03 In 1997, Gerald Kiesman started to heal a traumatic event he experienced. Throughout his healing, Gerald recognized that information on trauma in books and on the internet was written in academic terminology. Gerald believed it is important to write about trauma in layman's terms, easy to understand, that includes healing exercises. Having an understanding of trauma and knowledge of healing exercises is the foundation to healing trauma. In 2000 Gerald started to develop the book. With 16 years of research on trauma, post traumatic stress disorder and healing exercises and facilitating over 300 workshops throughout Canada, Gerald has developed this trauma healing guide that provides a clear and basic understanding of how trauma impacts the mind and body. A understanding of post traumatic stress disorder and healing exercises to eliminate the stress from the traumatic event. Journal writing exercises are also included. The Trauma Healing Guide is a valuable resource for trauma survivors, community workers, caregivers, foster parents, military personnel and veterans. Healing Together Suzanne B. Phillips, Dianne Kane, 2009-01-02. When one or both partners in a relationship experience a major traumatic event, the strain can really put the relationship in jeopardy. Healing Together offers couples simple techniques for communicating, regaining trust and supporting one another through the process of trauma recovery. Journey Through Trauma Gretchen L. Schmelzer, PhD, 2018-02-06. For survivors of PTSD and repeated relational trauma and the people who love them, Gretchen Schmelzer watched too many people quit during treatment for trauma recovery. They found it too difficult or too frightening or just decided that for them it was too late. But as a therapist and trauma survivor herself, Dr. Schmelzer wants us to know that it is never too late to heal from trauma, whether it is the suffering caused within an abusive relationship or PTSD resulting from combat. Sometimes what feels like a big setback is actually an unexpected difficult step forward. So she wrote Journey Through Trauma specifically for survivors to help them understand the terrain of the healing process and stay on the path. There are three basic principles that every trauma survivor should know: Healing is possible. It requires courage. And it cannot be done alone. Traumas that happen more than once, child abuse, sexual abuse, domestic violence, gang violence, even war, are all relational traumas. They happened inside a relationship and therefore must be healed inside a relationship, whether that relationship is with a therapist or within a group. Journey Through Trauma gives us a map to help guide us through that healing process, see where the hard parts show up and persevere in the process of getting well. We learn the five phases that every survivor must negotiate along the way and come to understand that since the cycle of healing is not linear, circling back around to a previous stage does not mean defeat; it actually means progress as well as facing new challenges. Authoritative and accessible Journey Through Trauma provides support for survivors and their loved ones through one of the most challenging but necessary processes of healing that anyone can face. From Trauma to Healing Ann Goelitz, Abigail Stewart-Kahn, 2013. From Trauma to Healing: A Social Worker's Guide for Working With Survivors is the next significant publication on trauma in the field of social work. Since September 11 and Hurricane Katrina, social workers have come together increasingly to consider how traumatic events impact practice. From Trauma to Healing is designed to provide direction in this process, supporting both the field's movement towards evidence based practice and social workers' growing need to be equipped to work with trauma. It does so in the practical guide format already proven to be compelling to social work students, educators and practitioners, providing case examples and addressing social workers' unique ecological approach    Healing Trauma Kitty K. Wu, Catherine S. Tang, Eugenie Y. TIP 52: Clinical Supervision and Professional Development of the Substance Abuse Counselor U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, 2019-11-23 This Treatment Improvement Protocol TIP is a companion to TIP 51 Substance Abuse Treatment Addressing the Specific Needs of Women. These two volumes look at how gender specific treatment strategies can improve outcomes for men and women respectively. The physical psychological social and spiritual effects of substance use and abuse on men can be quite different from the effects on women and those differences have implications for treatment in behavioral health settings. Men are also affected by social and cultural forces in different ways than women and physical differences between the genders influence substance use and recovery as well. This TIP Addressing the Specific Behavioral Health Needs of Men addresses these distinctions. It provides practical information based on available evidence and clinical experience that can help counselors more effectively treat substance use disorders

Equity-Centered Trauma-Informed Education Alex Shevrin Venet, 2023-09-01 Educators must both respond to the impact of trauma and prevent trauma at school. Trauma informed initiatives tend to focus on the challenging behaviors of students and ascribe them to circumstances that students are facing outside of school. This approach ignores the reality that inequity itself causes trauma and that schools often heighten inequities when implementing trauma informed practices that are not based in educational equity. In this fresh look at trauma informed practice Alex Shevrin Venet urges educators to shift equity to the center as they consider policies and professional development. Using a framework of six principles for equity centered trauma informed education Venet offers practical action steps that teachers and school leaders can take from any starting point using the resources and influence at their disposal to make shifts in practice pedagogy and policy. Overthrowing inequitable systems is a process not an overnight change. But transformation is possible when educators work together and teachers can do more than they realize from within their own classrooms
