for this gene to cause problems with the spine so it's important to breed responsibly to avoid health problems. People who like cats became familiar with the Manx cat in the early 1900s. In 1920 the Cat Fanciers Association (CFA) made the breed legal. Over time breeders have created two main types of Manx cats based on the length of their tails: the rumpie which has no tail at all and the stimpie which has a short tail. By cat show standards both types are fine. People love Manx cats because they are friendly and playful. They have coats that are different colors and patterns. The breed has become popular all over the world because of how unique it looks and how friendly it is.
