Mapping Postmodernism:

Mapping Postmodernism Robert C. Greer, 2003-08-11 Helping you navigate the complex debate among Christians over postmodernism Robert C Greer maps four different paths marked out by Francis Schaeffer Karl Barth John Hick and George Lindbeck Ultimately he points to the true Subject who makes knowledge possible through the language of revelation and relationship with God

Cartographic Strategies of Postmodernity Peta Mitchell, 2013-01-11 The last fifty years have witnessed the growing pervasiveness of the figure of the map in critical theoretical and fictional discourse References to mapping and cartography are endemic in poststructuralist theory and similarly geographically and culturally diverse authors of twentieth century fiction seem fixated upon mapping While the map metaphor has been employed for centuries to highlight issues of textual representation and epistemology the map metaphor itself has undergone a transformation in the postmodern era This metamorphosis draws together poststructuralist conceptualizations of epistemology textuality cartography and metaphor and signals a shift away from modernist preoccupations with temporality and objectivity to a postmodern pragmatics of spatiality and subjectivity Cartographic Strategies of Postmodernity charts this metamorphosis of cartographic metaphor and argues that the ongoing reworking of the map metaphor renders it a formative and performative metaphor of postmodernity

Postmodern/Postwar and After Jason Gladstone, Andrew Hoberek, Daniel Worden, 2016-07 Within the past ten years the field of contemporary American literary studies has changed significantly Following the turn of the twenty first century and mounting doubts about the continued explanatory power of the category of postmodernism new organizations have emerged book series have been launched journals have been created and new methodologies periodizations and theatics have redefined the field Postmodern Postwar and After aims to be a field defining book a sourcebook for the new and emerging critical terrain that explores the postmodern postwar period and what comes after The first section of essays returns to the category of the post modern and argues for the usefulness of key concepts and themes from postmodernism to the study of contemporary literature or reevaluates postmodernism in light of recent developments in the field and historical and economic changes in the late twentieth and early twenty first centuries These essays take the contemporary abandonments of postmodernism as an occasion to assess the current states of postmodernity After that the essays move to address the critical shift away from postmodernism as a description of the present and toward a new sense of postmodernism as just one category among many that scholars can use to describe the recent past The final section looks forward and explores the question of what comes after the postwar postmodern Taken together these essays from leading and emerging scholars on the state of twenty first century literary studies provide a number of frameworks for approaching contemporary literature as influenced by yet distinct from postmodernism The result is an indispensable guide that seeks to represent and understand the major overhauling of postwar American literary studies that is currently underway

Contemporary Research on Intertextuality in Video Games Duret, Christophe, Pons, Christian-Marie, 2016-06-16 Culture is

dependent upon intertextuality to fuel the consumption and production of new media The notion of intertextuality has gone through many iterations but what remains constant is its stalwart application to bring to light what audiences value through the marriages of disparate ideology and references Videogames in particular have a longstanding tradition of weaving texts together in multimedia formats that interact directly with players Contemporary Research on Intertextuality in Video Games brings together game scholars to analyze the impact of video games through the lenses of transmediality intermediality hypertextuality architextuality and paratextuality Unique in its endeavor this publication discusses the vast web of interconnected texts that feed into digital games and their players This book is essential reading for game theorists designers sociologists and researchers in the fields of communication sciences literature and media studies The Map Reader Martin Dodge, Rob Kitchin, Chris Perkins, 2011-05-09 WINNER OF THE CANTEMIR PRIZE 2012 awarded by the Berendel Foundation The Map Reader brings together for the first time classic and hard to find articles on mapping This book provides a wide ranging and coherent edited compendium of key scholarly writing about the changing nature of cartography over the last half century The editorial selection of fifty four theoretical and thought provoking texts demonstrates how cartography works as a powerful representational form and explores how different mapping practices have been conceptualised in particular scholarly contexts Themes covered include paradigms politics people aesthetics and technology Original interpretative essays set the literature into intellectual context within these themes Excerpts are drawn from leading scholars and researchers in a range of cognate fields including Cartography Geography Anthropology Architecture Engineering Computer Science and Graphic Design The Map Reader provides a new unique single source reference to the essential literature in the cartographic field more than fifty specially edited excerpts from key classic articles and monographs critical introductions by experienced experts in the field focused coverage of key mapping practices techniques and ideas a valuable resource suited to a broad spectrum of researchers and students working in cartography and GIScience geography the social sciences media studies and visual arts full page colour illustrations of significant maps as provocative visual think pieces fully indexed clearly structured and accessible ways into a fast changing field of cartographic research

The Urban Sublime in American Literary Naturalism Christophe Den Tandt, 1998 In this dynamic reappraisal of American literary naturalism Christophe Den Tandt connects late nineteenth century fiction to its romantic urban gothic roots and to recent discussions of the sublime in postmodern theory Den Tandt focuses on aspects of naturalist novels their use of hyperbole and hysteria of the grotesque and the abject of uncanniness and mesmerism that have often been left in the periphery of naturalist discourse He argues that realistic strategies of literary representation can never succeed in depicting the urban environment since the logic of the city rests on a network of hidden relations Naturalist texts try to resolve this dilemma by opposing sublime components and realistic documentary elements Postmodernism Mike Featherstone, 1988 The term postmodernist was originally used to describe a cultural trend that opposed the modernist style in art architecture and design It has come to be applied to a much wider range of philosophical and social science discourses concerned with the crisis of modernity the end of the assumptions overarching theories and meta narratives that have gained prominence since the Enlightenment In this major statement on postmodernism an international and interdisciplinary cast of contributors assess the implications of this and the term s application in social and cultural theory Is there a single definition of postmodernism or is it a catch all concept for quite different responses to the end of modernity How does the social and philosophical questioning of modernity relate to aesthetic theory and cultural change The postmodern condition is said to signify a world of ever multiplying signifying processes a hypertrophy of images a dissolution of established categories and identities and an ever increasing scepticism towards claims of truth meaning and value What are the implications of such fragmentations for theology feminism and Marxism What indeed are postmodern politics Did humanity find its limits in the confusion of tongues the Tower of Babel Featuring both an introduction to and an interview with Jean Francois Lyotard this unique volume originally published as a Theory Culture Society double issue comprises the most lucid interrogation of and contribution to the most important intellectual movement of our time

Postmodernism Douglas Kellner,1989 New theories about the radical break with the traditions of modernism in literature architecture cinema mass media and consumer culture began emerging in the late 70s from writers as diverse as Baudrillard Lyotard Kröker Jencks and importantly Fredric Jameson who leads the effort to bring Marxist cultural critique forward into the postmodernism debate This volume appraises Jameson s work and Marxism as a conceptual framework for theorizing postmodernism

intervene in civic affairs by suggesting ways they can create their own discourses Marx and the Postmodernism Debates Lorraine Landry,2000-09-30 This book is a meticulous argument for the contemporary value of Marx's democratic theory as an interpretive key for the postmodernism debates Landry uses the works of Derrida Foucault and Lyotard to represent the poststructuralist camp and the writings of Habermas to represent the rationalist camp Viable social critique argues Landry mediates between pure social constructivist and pure realist metaphysics Postmodernism although critical of Marx aided the broader project of critical social theory particularly Marx's critique of social material contexts of oppression Indeed significant positive affiliations among Marx Habermas and the poststructuralists are found in their commitment to criticizing ideological aspects of bourgeois Enlightenment rationality and modernity Landry employs a fruitful tension strategy as seeking rapprochement among the modern and postmodern positions on hotly debated contemporary issues such as subjectivity criticism and the nature of reason Marxism continues to provide critical tools for articulating productive conflict within the postmodernism debates advancing of strategies of critique beyond identity politics toward a more self reflective ideological discussion of the multiple axes of power and oppression in political struggles over democracy In this unique study complex philosophical issues are described lucidly and their relevance for today is established compellingly Thematic Cartography, New Approaches in Thematic Cartography Colette Cauvin,Francisco Escobar,Aziz Serradj,2010 This series in three volumes considers maps as constructions resulting from a number of successive transformations and stages integrated in a logical reasoning and an order of choices Volume 3 is exclusively focused on the new approaches on thematic cartography offered by the three successive revolutions affecting the discipline digital multimedia and the Internet

Postmodern Ideology and Postmodern China Josef Gregory Mahoney,2003 Postmodernism and the Contemporary Novel Bran Nicol,2002 Collects together the most important contributions to the theory of the postmodern novel over the last 40 years guiding readers through the complex questions and wide ranging debates The Postmodern Turn Ihab Hassan,1987 Mapping Multiple Perspectives Rolland G. Paulston,1996 Envisioning a Decolonial Future Elsa del Campo Ramírez,2019 Modernity and Postmodern Culture Jim McGuigan,1999 A Theological Analysis and Critique of the Postmodernism Debate Michael W. Nicholson,1997-01-01 The Power of Projections Arthur Jay Klinghoffer,2006-04-30 Why is Europe at the top half of maps and Africa at the bottom Although we are accustomed to that convention it is in fact a politically motivated almost entirely subjective way of depicting a ball spinning in space As The Power of Projections teaches us maps do not portray reality only interpretations of it To begin with they are two dimensional projections of a three dimensional spherical Earth Add to that the fact that every map is made for a purpose and its design tends to reflect that purpose Finally a map is often a psychological projection of the historical political and cultural values of the cartographer or of the nation person or organization for which the map was created In this fascinating book Klinghoffer examines the world perceptions of various civilizations and the ways in which maps have been formulated to serve the agendas of cartographers and their patrons He analyzes the recent decline of sovereignty the spread of globalization the reassertion of ethnic identity and how these trends affect contemporary mapmaking
