Marconis Cottage:

Marconi's Cottage Medbh McGuckian, 1992 In Marconi's Cottage Medbh McGuckian describes the drama of the domesticated mother's endeavour to be or to become a free autonomous artist and continues her investigation into the relationship between feminine and masculine principles A sequence of poems mourning the apparent sacrifice of one fertility to the other is followed by a spate of poems which celebrate the physical and culminate in actual birth As Molly Bendell writes in The Antioch Review The beauty and genius of her poems continually redefine our notions of poetry Romantic and religious Medbh McGuckian chronicles the conditions of her life and the loss and recovery of self in poems that are challenging mesmerising and rewarding Northern Irish Poetry and the Russian Turn S. Schwerter, 2013-02-07 Seamus Heaney Tom Paulin and Medbh McGuckian are the three most influential poets from Northern Ireland who have composed poems with a link to the Tsarist Empire and the Soviet Union Through their references to Russia the three poets achieve a geographical and mental detachment allowing them to turn a fresh eye on the Northern Irish situation Northern Irish Poetry and Domestic Space Adam Hanna, 2016-04-29 Northern Irish Poetry and Domestic Space explores why houses in some ways the most private of spaces have taken up such visibly public positions in the work of a range of prominent poets from Northern Ireland examining the work of Seamus Heaney Michael Longley Derek Mahon and Medbh McGuckian Silence and Articulacy in the Poetry of Medbh McGuckian Maureen E. Ruprecht Fadem, 2019-12-03 Silence and Articulacy in the Poetry of Medbh McGuckian is an innovative contribution to the scholarship on Belfast poet Medbh McGuckian This book considers the entire oeuvre of this globally respected Irish woman writer a member of the contemporary avant garde with now fifteen US published volumes and numerous individual publications The author positions McGuckian's oeuvre as political and historical poetry and offers a provocative new assessment of its crafted silences This work argues that it is the muted character of McGuckian's poems a consequence of a defamiliarized language the overwhelming sway of the image and a profusion of intertextual quoting that constitutes their agency and force The silences are read as a response to the precarious positionality of poet and speaker at the site of disaster and the limits of articulacy In line with Rukeyser's notion of the life of poetry the life of McGuckian's silences is located Fadem argues in the poems production as revealed self reflexively and in their prolonged consumption This oeuvre operates as a formidable counter discourse by converting poetry's reception into a much protracted task that redistributes the temporal economy of poem and reader and disrupts the given structures of time place and the order of things Sympathetic Ink Shane Alcobia-Murphy, 2006-10-01 Northern Irish poets have been accused of reticence in addressing political issues in their work In Sympathetic Ink Shane Alcobia Murphy challenges this view through a consideration of the works of Seamus Heaney Paul Muldoon and Medbh McGuckian Making use of substantial collections of the poets papers which have only recently become available Alcobia Murphy focuses on the oblique subtle strategies employed by these poets to critique contemporary political issues He employs the concept of sympathetic ink or invisible ink arguing that rather than avoiding politics these poets have via complex intertextual references and resonances woven them deeply into the formal construction of their works

Acute and learned Sympathetic Ink re examines existing attitudes towards Northern Irish poetry as well as being the first critical work to address the poetry of Medbh McGuckian

Marconi Michael Sexton, 2005 The pioneer of radio communication Guglielmo Marconi 1874 1937 had an Irish mother Annie Jameson and married as his first wife Beatrice O'Brien daughter of Lord Inchiquin of Dromoland Castle County Clare This study traces Marconi's Irish and Italian family connections and his work in Ireland in particular the installations of his radio signalling stations at Crookhaven Ballybunion and Clifden which in 1907 was the most advanced station of its kind in the world

Improprieties Clair Wills, 1993 This is an innovative and accessible study of contemporary Northern Irish poetry in the light of current debates about post modernism poetry and politics and the figure of woman in Irish political discourse Close readings of the work of Tom Paulin Medbh McGuckian and Paul Muldoon focus on the improper elements of the poetry the refusal of a sense of home the disruption of traditional poetic form and the sexual narratives told

Improprieties is a much needed evaluation of Northern Irish poetry distinguished by its critical sophistication and lucid readings of three notoriously complex but hugely important poets
