Luncheonette A Memoir:

Luncheonette Steven Sorrentino, 2009-10-13 When his father contracted a sudden illness that left him paralyzed Steven Sorrentino stowed away his dreams of Broadway stardom and returned home to West Long Branch New Jersey to help his family out. Taking over Clint's Corner his father's luncheonette Steven found himself at the grill flipping porkroll serving a counter full of eccentrics and confiding in Dolores the crusty head waitress with a particular flair for butchering the English language. From this unusual post Steven watched his ailing father who though confined to his wheelchair refused to accept defeat and even managed to further his career in local politics. Somehow the more his father triumphed the more Steven's own life seemed to stall. Guilty and confused Steven made a shocking and desperate decision not knowing that he was about to stumble upon the secrets of his father's resilience. Luncheonette is an irresistible true story about the unexpected lessons life brings and of the inspiration we find in the least likely places

Carbo, 2004-11-30 This book is a variety of short stories and episodes that I faced while I was a police officer for the city of Newark New Jersey for fifteen and a half years. It gives a brief description on daily routines that police officers were faced with on the job without a lot of today's technology. I was a street patrolman and didn't have too much knowledge or facts about on going events inside the police department. In this book I tried to convey my personal feelings thoughts actions and some of my experiences on what I witnessed did or heard on the streets of this city during my time as a police officer from January 6 1964 to June 30 1979
