Malignant Tumors of the Lung Jean-Paul

Sculier, Willard A. Fry, 2012-12-06 Lung cancer is the neoplastic disease with the highest mortality numbers in the world. The disease is very common in industrialized countries. This textbook synthesizes the basic science of lung cancer with state of the art accounts of diagnosis and treatment. Written by a distinguished panel of experts from Europe, Asia and North America, it covers all of the most important fields: biology, pathology, epidemiology, screening, diagnosis, therapy, supportive care and prognosis. All physicians caring for patients with lung cancer, especially surgeons, chest physicians, radiation oncologists and medical oncologists, will find a wealth of information that meets their needs. Whenever possible, the principles of evidence based medicine are followed by providing data from systematic reviews, meta analyses, methodology based guidelines and randomized clinical trials.

Lung Cancer Heine H. Hansen, 2012-12-06 Primary lung tumors are now a global health problem. The incidence has risen dramatically during the last 5-6 decades, reflecting the popularity of cigarette smoking. In this, the fifth volume dealing with lung cancer in the series KAPPA CANCER TREATMENT AND RESEARCH, many current research topics are covered by notable authorities, including chemoprevention, growth factors, multidrug resistance, new agents and haematopoietic growth factors. Altogether, the 17 chapters from twelve countries highlight some of the rapid developments taking place in basic and clinical research of lung cancer. These chapters not only give up to date information, they will also stimulate further research into this man made disease which was almost unheard of a century ago.

Colby, 2012-12-06 Diagnosis of tumors is among the most commonly performed tasks in pulmonary pathology and the chapters on tumors in Dail and Hammar's Pulmonary Pathology have been singled out for special praise for their authoritative discussions and comprehensive lists of references. In reviewing the first edition, Diagnostic Cytopathology said the chapter on common lung neoplasms is like a book within a book. In revising the chapter on uncommon lung tumors, Dr Dail added nearly 500 new references and 100 new illustrations. The present proposal is to make the chapters on tumors targeted therapy has good molecular selectivity which can efficiently and selectively kill tumor cells and reduce damage to normal tissues The adverse reactions of EGFR TKIs treatment for lung cancer are different from those of traditional treatments such as surgery radiotherapy and chemotherapy Targeted therapy has completely changed the diagnosis and treatment mode of lung cancer and improved the quality of life of patients However targeted therapy will eventually lead to drug resistance and more or less adverse reactions during the treatment process The efficacy and safety of EGFR TKIs in the treatment of lung cancer remain of utmost importance Besides the three generations EGFR TKIs that have already been clinically applied we urgently need to develop novel efficient and low toxicity EGFR TKIs Therefore we expect to explore the development application and side effects of EGFR TKIs for lung cancer So as to extend the overall survival and improve the quality of life The focus of this Research Topic is to explore the EGFR TKIs treatment for lung cancer These may include but are not limited to 1 Development of EGFR TKIs of lung cancer 2 Application of EGFR TKIs to lung cancer 3 Side effects of EGFR TKIs of lung cancer Please note Manuscripts consisting solely of bioinformatics computational analysis or predictions of public databases which are not accompanied by validation independent clinical or patient cohort or biological validation in vitro or in vivo which are not based on public databases are not suitable for publication in this journal
