Lyrical Interference:

Lyric Interventions Linda A. Kinnahan, 2005-05 Lyric Interventions explores linguistically innovative poetry by contemporary women in North America and Britain whose experiments give rise to fresh feminist readings of the lyric subject. The works discussed by Linda Kinnahan explore the lyric subject in relation to the social and I as a product of social discourse and as a conduit for change. Contributing to discussions of language-oriented poetics through its focus on women writers and feminist perspectives, this study of lyric experimentation brings attention to the cultural contexts of nation, gender, and race as they significantly shift the terms by which the experimental is produced, defined, and understood. This study focuses upon lyric intervention in distinct but related spheres as they link public and ideological norms of identity. Firstly, lyric innovations with visual and spatial realms of cultural practice and meaning, particularly as they naturalize ideologies of gender and race in North America and the post-colonial legacies of the Caribbean, are investigated in the works of Barbara Guest, Kathleen Fraser, Erica Hunt, and M. Nourbese Philip. Secondly, experimental engagements with nationalist rhetorics of identity, marking the works of Carol Ann Duffy, Denise Riley, Wendy Mulford, and Geraldine Monk, are explored in relation to contemporary evocations of self in Britain. And thirdly, in discussions of all of the poets but particularly accentuated in regard to Guest, Fraser, Riley, Mulford, and Monk, formal experimentation with the lyric I is considered through gendered encounters with critical and avant-garde discourses of poetics. Throughout the study, Kinnahan seeks to illuminate and challenge the ways in which visual and verbal constructs function to make readable the subjectivities historically supporting white male-centered power within the worlds of art poetry, social locations, or national policy. The potential of the feminist innovative lyric to generate linguistic surprise simultaneously with engaging risky strategies of social intervention lends force and significance to the public engagement of such poetic experimentation. This fresh energetic study will be of great interest to literary critics and women's studies scholars as well as poets on both sides of the Atlantic.

Lyrical Interference Norman Finkelstein, 2003 Cultural Writing: Literary Criticism, Poetics. The wild is always unprecedented but never inconsistent. This is the knowledge that makes American scholarship American. Norman Finkelstein offers unprecedented insights here whose facts consist of one soul purpose: Friendship. Here the imagination of poetry is Friendship on the line. And driving that line are energies of the inevitable if we are to live. Friendship is inevitable motions outward: an outstretched hand, a goddamn big car bought and paid for lovingly. These energies speak simply and do so they accomplish new simplicities which Finkelstein boldly proposes as the most radical virtues of poetic art. Lyric and Liberalism in the Age of American Empire Hugh Foley, 2022-08-15 What is the difference between the I of a poem, the lyric subject, and the liberal subject of rights? Lyric and Liberalism in the Age of American Empire uses this question to re-examine the work of five major American poets, changing our understanding of their writing and the field of post-war American poetry. Through extended readings of the work of Elizabeth Bishop, Robert Lowell, Amiri Baraka, John Ashbery, and

Jorie Graham Hugh Foley shows how poets have imagined liberalism as a problem for poetry Foley's book offers a new approach to ongoing debates about the nature of lyric by demonstrating the entanglement of ideas about the lyric poem with the development of twentieth century liberal discussions of individuality Arguing that the nature of American empire in this period underpinned by the discourse of individual rights forced poets to reckon with this entanglement it demonstrates how this reckoning helped to shape poetry in the post war period By tracing the ways a lyric poem performs personhood and the ways that this person can be distinguished from the individual envisioned by post war liberalism Foley shows how each poet stages a critique of liberalism from inside the standpoint of lyric This book demonstrates the capacities of poetry for rethinking its own relation to history and politics providing a new perspective on a vital era of American poetry Lyric as Comedy Calista McRae, 2020-10-15 A poet walks into a bar In Lyric as Comedy Calista McRae explores the unexpected comic opportunities within recent American poems about deeply personal often embarrassing experiences Lyric poems she finds can be surprising sites of a shifting unruly comedy as seen in the work of John Berryman Robert Lowell A R Ammons Terrance Hayes Morgan Parker Natalie Shapero and Monica Youn Lyric as Comedy draws out the ways in which key American poets have struggled with persistent expectations about what expressive poetry can and should do McRae reveals how the modern lyric rather than bestowing order on the poet's thoughts and emotions can center on impropriety and confusion formal breakage and linguistic unruliness and self observation and self staging The close readings in Lyric as Comedy also provide new insight into the theory and aesthetics of comedy taking in the indirect glancing comic affordances of poetry In doing so McRae captures varieties of humor that do not align with traditional terms centering abjection and pleasure as facets of contemporary lyric practice Rethinking Lyric Communities Irene Fantappiè, Francesco Giusti, Laura Scuriatti, 2024-10-28 In contemporary Western societies lyric poetry is often considered an elitist or solipsistic literary genre Yet a closer look at its history reveals that lyric has always been intertwined with the politics of community formation from the imagining of national and transnational discursive communities to the use of poetry in episodes of collective action protest and social resistance Poetic forms have circulated between languages and traditions from around the world and across time But how does lyric poetry address or even create communities and of what kinds This volume takes a global perspective to investigate poetic communities in dialogue with recent developments in lyric theory and concepts of community In doing so it explores both the political potentialities and the perils of lyric poetry Charles Olson Robert Von Hallberg, 1978 Described as one of the most influential American literary figures of the mid 20th century and a near prophet of the Black Mountain School Olson was highly regarded as both a theorist and a poet Here is an examination of Olson's understanding of poetry that provides the framework needed for understanding his work Poetics Journal Digital Archive Lyn Hejinian, Barrett Watten, 2015-02-25 The highly influential Poetics Journal whose ten issues were published between 1982 and 1998 contributed to the surge of interest in the practice of poetics Edited by internationally recognized poet critics

Lyn Hejinian and Barrett Watten the journal presents major conversations and debates and invites readers to expand on the critical and creative engagements they represent This archive re presents virtually all the articles originally published in Poetics Journal organized alphabetically by author and in searchable form It features indexes by contributors keywords and volume The writing that appeared in Poetics Journal reflects the development of a range of creative and critical approaches in avant garde poetry and art over two decades In making this content newly available the editors hope to preserve the generative enthusiasm for innovative writing and art it represents while encouraging new uses and contexts A Guide to Poetics Journal is also available see <http://www.upne.com/0819571205.html> for more information

Poetry and Epistemology Roland Hagenbüchle, Laura E. Skandera-Trombley, 1986 The Lyric and Modern Poetry Brian Conniff, 1988 The lyric poem has long been considered a timeless form and rigid lyric conventions inform most modern poetry and criticism Yet these conventions are not indicative of anything essentially poetic rather they hide our culture's fundamental contempt for poetry our refusal to take it seriously They can help even a great poet to dismiss his own work as unimportant as in the case of W H Auden or they can provide the focus for an all out attack on the Western metaphysical tradition as in the case of Charles Olson Because poets like Olson Robert Creeley Basil Bunting and Louis Zukofsky question the assumptions most central to a lyric genre it is their writing that best exposes and best resists our deep distrust of poetry

The Secular Lyric in Middle English Arthur Keister Moore, 1935 The scholar of this work has attempted to frame a comprehensive view of medieval secular lyrics an attempt which includes discussion of songs of satire and protest and the art lyric The Influence of Beranger and His Lyric Poems Upon the Bourbon Dynasty in France Baron Louis Benas, 1881 Poetics Journal, 1998-06 Reading the Illegible Craig Douglas Dworkin, 2003 A poet takes another's text excises this prints over that cancels erases rearranges defaces and generally renders the original unreadable at least in its original terms What twentieth century writers and artists have meant by such appropriations and violations and how the illegible results are to be read is the subject Craig Dworkin takes up in this ambitious work Reading the Illegible explores such formal and structural manipulations in a wide range of exemplary cases John Cage's and Jackson MacLow's practices of writing through other texts the intentional cancellations of text by book artist Ken Campbell and conceptual artist Marcel Broodthaers Susan Howe's experiments in typography and cultural transmission visual complexity in Charles Bernstein Stan Brakhage and Rosemarie Waldrop the sedimentary texts of post minimalist artist Robert Smithson and poets Steve McCaffery and Christopher Dewdney the tactics of erasure employed by the poet Ronald Johnson and book artist Tom Phillips In his scrutiny of these works and with reference to a rich variety of contextual materials from popular and scientific texts to visual artworks political and cultural theories and experimental films Dworkin proposes a new way of apprehending the radical formalism of such unreadable texts His method seeks to unveil what Dworkin describes as the politics of the poem what is signified by its form enacted by its structures implicit in the philosophy of language how it positions its reader and other questions relating to the poem as material object In doing so he exposes the mechanics and function of truly radical formalism as a practice that moves beyond aesthetic considerations into the realm of politics and ideology Thus this book asks us to reconsider poetry as a physical act and helps us to see how the range of a text's linguistic and political maneuvers depends to a great extent on the material conditions of reading and writing as well as on the mechanics of reproduction

Language and the Sacred in Canadian Poet bpNichol's The Martyrology Susan Elizabeth Billingham, 2000 This work explores the circular relationship between notation and faith in bp Nichol's life long poem The Martyrology Pun and paradox the ability to believe simultaneously in apparently contradictory things lie at the heart of Nichol's writing which this work discusses This work proposes pataphysics as a useful category for understanding Nichol's poetics Poetry After

Modernism Robert McDowell, 1991 Poetry After Modernism Story Line's most successful anthology of criticism was recognized and widely praised for raising the level of discourse on poetry This expanded edition retains seven original essays and adds seven new pieces As editor Robert McDowell points out Poets who can write good critical prose from distinctive points of view are the most reliable guides to the news we need to hear most The Ethics and Poetics of Alterity in

Asian American Poetry Xiaojing Zhou, 2006-05 Publisher description Poetry Criticism Michelle Lee, 2007 Each volume provides substantive critical essays and biographical information on four to eight major poets from all eras A cumulative title index to the entire series is published separately included in subscription Theory and Practice in the Black Mountain
