Nonalignment In An Age Of Alignments:

Non-alignment in an Age of Alignments A. W. Singham, Shirley Hune, 1986     Non-alignment in an Age of Alignments Arch W. Singham, Shirley Hune, 1986     Non-Aligned Movement Summits Jovan Cavoški, 2022-05-19 Using newly declassified documents from Serbian, British, Indian, Chinese, Myanmar, US, and Soviet archives, Non-Aligned Movement Summits shows how the Non-Aligned Movement (NAM) gradually evolved into the third force of Cold War politics enveloping most of the post-colonial and non-bloc world. Jovan Cavoški follows the evolution of the NAM through its summits and other gatherings during which major political decisions pertaining to the destiny of the Third World were made. These events were scrutinized by all major powers and had a corresponding effect on their policies. From the Belgrade Conference in 1961 until 1989, all major Third World and non-bloc nations met to demonstrate to the Eastern and Western Blocs that they were independent, active, and respected participants in world affairs. Cavoški shows how these summits were also closely related to events occurring in the relationship between the two blocs, providing opportunities for non-bloc actors to influence the global balance of power. By moving the focus of 20th century international history away from the bloc nations and instead giving developing nations in Africa and Asia due attention, this book provides a fresh perspective on Cold War history and fills a significant gap in the literature. It is an important study for all students and scholars of the Cold War and international history.

The Principles of Non-alignment Hans Köchler, 1982     The Theory and Practice of Third World Solidarity Darryl C. Thomas, 2001-02-28 This study examines the development of Third World solidarity within the broader historical context of changing hegemonic power systems from Pax Britannia to Pax Americana. Thomas focuses on the political, economic, and racial structures that are fundamental to hegemonic supremacy over peripheral and semiperipheral states and he analyzes the divergent modes of Third World incorporation and subordination into the world system. He concludes that the racial structure of global apartheid that dominated the world system during the colonial period is re-emerging under the rubric of a New World Order.     Revolutionary States, Leaders, and Foreign Relations Houman A. Sadri, 1997-04-16 This book compares and contrasts the foreign relations strategies of China, Cuba, and Iran in the first decade of their post-revolutionary periods. Among a variety of explanatory variables, leadership (particularly the type of revolutionary leaders) played a significant role in explaining the outcome of the policymaking process in each case. Three distinct patterns of foreign relations strategies are evident among all three revolutionary regimes in the ten-year period: Two Track, Conflictual, and Conciliatory. This book is a valuable source for both experts and non-experts alike in providing insight into the foreign relations of revolutionary regimes in developing countries and in helping US policymakers anticipate behaviors of future revolutionary leaders. A focal point of this book is the examination of the non-alignment strategies of these prominent developing countries during the infancy of their regimes. Each state's particular strategy is described and explained in detail and then contrasted and compared. Although there are differences among their foreign policies considering their geographic locations size wealth military capabilities leadership characteristics and political institutions there are significant similarities regarding their foreign policy goals and trends in their foreign relations with the Great Powers Among explanatory factors leadership played a significant role in the policy making process although the foreign relations strategies of these revolutionary regimes were fed by a combination of national and international variables In all three states the tone of foreign policy was set by revolutionary leaders who were either idealists or realists Idealists tended to take a more active and conflictual approach toward one or both of the superpowers while Realists were more cautious and less willing to resort to a conflictual posture This book also investigates the gap between the theoretical and practical nonalignment stance of each state This cross regional study provides policy analysts with clues about the foreign policies of other revolutionary developing countries in similar situations Finally it makes suggestions about how a Great Power may relate to a developing country during its first post revolution decade
