The Feeling Child Philippa Page, Inela Selimovic, Camilla Sutherland, 2018-11-15 The Feeling Child Affect and Politics in Latin American Literature and Film compiles a series of essays focusing on the figure of the child within the specific context of the affective turn in the study of contemporary sociocultural settings across Latin America This edited volume looks specifically at the intersection between cultural constructions of childhood and the affective turn within the contemporary sociopolitical landscape of Latin America The editors and contributors share a common aim in furthering comprehension of the particular intensity of the child's affective presence spectatorial haptic silent and spectral among others in contemporary Latin American cultural expression The contributions herein approach this theoretical challenge through an interdisciplinary lens which brings together two burgeoning strands of inquiry The first is the notion of childhood as a significant and inherently political sociocultural space the second is the recognition that affect is integral and fundamental to gaining a more complex understanding of the manner in which contemporary social worlds are made In each case this affective presence is teased out as a register of society shedding light on the issues marking out the current sociopolitical landscape in particular the traces of the recent past in the regions represented This book brings together established international scholars and young academics focusing on Argentina Bolivia Chile Cuba and Peru

Jorge Luis Borges Jason Wilson, 2006-10-02 The face of Borges most widely known is that of the blind patrician man of letters in whose writings emotion is subjected to the play of ideas Yet Borges born in Buenos Aires in 1899 did not become virtually blind until the 1950s and in the decades before this affliction and before his books were widely translated and internationally celebrated he wrote loved and engaged in local polemics with adventurous passion In Jorge Luis Borges Jason Wilson explores Borges tumultuous early life in the streets and cafes of Buenos Aires and charts his literary friendships love affairs and travels Borges claimed never to have invented a character It's always me subtly disguised Illuminating the connections running between the biography and the fictions Wilson reminds us that Borges was always a poet whose life was recreated in his work but never in confessional ways and restores his Argentine roots This book will be an invaluable resource for all who treasure the modern master

BOOK JACKET

Between civilization & barbarism Francine Masiello, 1992 Evoking the famous watchwords of Argentine president Domingo Sarmiento 1868-74 Between Civilization and Barbarism explores the positioning of women within the Argentine nation and argues that women neither sought alliance with the civilizing agenda of leading statesmen nor found identity in the extreme poses of barbarism to which some intellectuals had condemned them Instead women used literary and political texts to surpass the tightly outlined roles assigned to them Beginning with literary and journalistic texts written by and about women from the time of Sarmiento Francine Masiello traces strategic shifts in the discourse on gender at moments of national crisis She considers not only novels and guides to female behavior written by and for privileged women but also newspapers and political tracts produced by women of the working class Extending her study into the urban expansion and modernization of the 1920s Masiello explores the nature of gender relations posited in treatises on crime and public disorder and in the texts of avant garde and social realist writers In addressing such representations of women as well as the effects of ideology and history on writing Masiello offers bold new insights into the development of Latin American women's literature and illuminates the role of women in forming the culture of present day Argentina Feeling Strangely in Mid-Century Spanish and Latin American Women's Fiction Tess C. Rankin, 2023-12-15 An Open Access edition of this book is available on the Liverpool University Press website and the OAPEN library as part of the Opening the Future project with COPIM The early twentieth century was awash in revolutionary scientific discourse and its uptake in the public imaginary through popular scientific writings touched every area of human experience from politics and governance to social mores and culture Feeling Strangely argues that these shifting scientific understandings and their integration into Hispanic and Lusophone society reshaped the experience of gender The book analyzes gender as a felt experience and explores how that experience is shaped by popular scientific discourse by examining the strange femininity of young protagonists in four novels written by women in Spanish and Portuguese Rosa Chacel's Memorias de Leticia Valle published in Argentina in 1945 Norah Lange's Personas en la sala Argentina 1950 Carmen Laforet's Nada Spain 1945 and Clarice Lispector's Perto do cora o selvagem Brazil 1943 It pairs each novel with a broad scientific theme selected from those that captured the contemporary popular imagination to argue that the young female protagonists in these novels all put forth visions of young womanhood as an experience of strangeness Building on Carmen Mart n Gait e's term chicas raras Rankin proposes this strangeness as constitutive of a gendered experience inextricable from affective and material engagements with the world Childhood in the Works of Silvina Ocampo and Alejandra Pizarnik Fiona Joy Mackintosh, 2003 In the final analysis Ocampo's works achieve equilibrium between childhood and age whereas Pizarnik's much discussed poetic crisis of exile from language itself parallels her deep sense of anxiety at being exiled from the world of childhood BOOK JACKET Encyclopedia of Twentieth-Century Latin American and Caribbean Literature, 1900-2003 Daniel Balderston, Mike Gonzalez, 2004-02-12 The Encyclopedia of Twentieth Century Latin American and Caribbean Literature 1900 2003 draws together entries on all aspects of literature including authors critics major works magazines genres schools and movements in these regions from the beginning of the twentieth century to the present day With more than 200 entries written by a team of international contributors this Encyclopedia successfully covers the popular to the esoteric The Encyclopedia is an invaluable reference resource for those studying Latin American and or Caribbean literature as well as being of huge interest to those following Spanish or Portuguese language courses Borges, a Life Edwin Williamson, 2004 Short story writer essayist and poet Jorge Luis Borges 1899 1986 revolutionized the literature of Latin America almost single handedly and left a legion of readers and admirers worldwide Based on an unprecedented range of interviews and on research into previously unknown or unavailable resources this is the first biography in any language to encompass the entire span of Borges's life and work In Borges Edwin

Williamson brings to life the little known human side of the writer his ancestral roots in Argentina his relations with family and friends his passions and despairs and the evolution of his political ideas By correlating this new biographical information with Borges's literary texts Williamson also reconstructs the dynamics of his inner world the conflicts desires and obsessions that drove the man and shaped his work This major new study finally unlocks the mysteries that have obscured the life of Borges The result is a compelling and often poignant portrait that will radically transform our views of this modern master
