Judy Garland on Judy Garland Randy L. Schmidt, 2014-09-01 Judy Garland on Judy Garland is the closest we will come to experiencing and exploring the legend's planned autobiography Collecting and presenting the most important Garland interviews and encounters that took place between 1935 and 1969 this work opens with her first radio appearance under contract with Metro Goldwyn Mayer and concludes with her last known interview one taped for Radio Denmark just months before her death What makes this collection unique is that it places Judy in the role of storyteller She wrote a number of essays for various publications and sat for countless print radio and television interviews These and other autobiographical efforts she made are proof that Judy Garland wanted her story told in her own words Finally 45 years after her death here it is Maybe, Probably Amanda Radley, 2023-02-14 Gina Henley doesn't keep up with current events She's too busy partying with her friends and fending off her mother's well intentioned nagging about finding a man and settling down When a mysterious illness causes her boss to close the office Gina must work from home and life as she knows it changes forever Dr Eleanor Osborne works at a busy London hospital and knows all too well the virus is causing panic As if that weren't bad enough it's too unsafe for her elderly neighbor to continue minding Eleanor's daughter Sophia She needs a babysitter pronto but who can she ask to take the risk Cut off from her social network Gina finds the silence of her own company suffocating who is she when no one is watching Eleanor is sure she picked the worst time ever to become a single mother how can she possibly raise a child in such an unpredictable world Set against the backdrop of a viral pandemic Gina and Eleanor are about to discover that loving another person is complicated when you're desperately searching for yourself Quality
