Melancholia and Maturation Eric L. Tribunella,2010-01-15 Coming of age in children s fiction often means achieving maturity through the experience of trauma In classics ranging from Old Yeller to The Outsiders a narrative of psychological pain defies expectations of childhood as a time of innocence and play In this provocative new book Eric L. Tribunella explores why trauma especially the loss of a loved object occurs in some of the most popular and critically acclaimed twentieth century American fiction for children Tribunella draws on queer theory and feminist revisions of Freud s notion of melancholia which is described as a fundamental response to loss arguing that the low grade symptoms of melancholia are in fact what characterize the mature sober and responsible American adult Melancholia and Maturation looks at how this effect is achieved in a society that purports to protect youngsters from every possible source of danger thus requiring melancholia to be induced artificially Each of the book s five chapters focuses on a different kind of lost object sacrificed so as to propel the child toward a distinctively gendered sexual ethical and national adulthood from same sex friends to the companionship of boy and his dog stories from the lost ideals of historical fiction about the American Revolution to the children killed or traumatized in Holocaust novels The author examines a wide spectrum of works including Jack London's dog tales the contemporary realistic novels of S E Hinton and Newbery Medal winners like Johnny Tremain and Bridge to Terabithia Tribunella raises fundamental questions about the value of children's literature as a whole and provides context for understanding why certain books become required reading for youth Eric L Tribunella is assistant professor of English at the University of Southern Mississippi His articles have been published in Children's Literature Association Quarterly Children's Literature in Education The Lion and the Unicorn A Critical Journal of Children's Literature and Children's Literature

Walt Disney, from Reader to Storyteller Kathy Merlock Jackson, Mark I. West, 2014-12-03 Walt Disney best known as a filmmaker had perhaps a greater skill as a reader While many would have regarded Felix Salten's Bambi and Carlo Collodi's Pinocchio as too somber for family oriented films he saw their possibilities He appealed to his audience by selecting but then transforming familiar stories Many of the tales he chose to adapt to film became some of the most read books in America Although much published research has addressed his adaptation process often criticizing his films for being too saccharine or not true to their literary sources little has been written on him as a reader what he read what he liked his reading experiences and the books that influenced him This collection of 15 fresh essays and one classic addresses Disney as a reader and shows how his responses to literature fueled his success Essays discuss the books he read the ones he adapted to film and the ways in which he demonstrated his narrative ability Exploring his literary connections to films nature documentaries theme park creations and overall creative vision the contributors provide insight into Walt Disney's relationships with authors his animation staff and his audience
