The Intentional Life Series Ramesh P. Richard, 2004-05-01 This set includes all three books of the Intentional Life Series Soul Passion Soul Mission and Soul Vision Throughout the Ages humanity has pursued the meaning of life However most of us live decidedly arbitrary lives muddling through from day to day In the Intentional Life Series Dr Ramesh Richard who has been called the layman s Ravi Zacharias articulates how a meaningful life must be a truly intentional life comprised of passion mission and vision He believes that in order for us to embody our true selves and become what we were designed to be we must reevaluate that passion mission and vision and conform them to God s will In Soul Passion Richard argues that even though many of us know there must be something more to life we stumble about with undirected goals and undiscovered passion He motivates readers to ask themselves what their passion is where they have placed their heart love trust and sufficiency Discovering your soul passion is the foundation for living a biblically well built and profitable life In Soul Mission Richard explores what it means to have a mission for your life that is in response to God s universal purpose Readers will find themselves deeply challenged to evaluate why they re here and find assistance with developing their own soul mission In Soul Vision Richard closes the trilogy by orienting his readers to the future through guidance from the Divine Visionary

The Power Of Point Of View Alicia Rasley,2008-02-26 Every Character Has a Voice Point of view isn t just an element of storytelling when chosen carefully and employed consistently in a work of fiction it is the foundation of a captivating story It s the character voice you can hear as clearly as your own It s the unique worldview that intrigues readers persuading them to empathize with your characters and invest in their tale It s the masterful concealing and revealing of detail that keeps pages turning and plots fresh It s the hidden agenda that makes narrators complicated and compelling It s also something most writers struggle to understand In The Power of Point of View RITA Award winning author Alicia Rasley first teaches you the fundamentals of point of view POV who is speaking why and what options work best within the conventions of your chosen genre Then she takes you deeper to explain how POV functions as a crucial piece of your story something that ultimately shapes and drives character plot and every other component of your fiction Through comprehensive instruction and engaging exercises you ll learn how to choose a point of view that enhances your characters and plots and encourages reader involvement navigate the levels of a character s point of view from objective viewing to action to emotion craft unusual perspectives including children animal narrators and villains A story changes depending on who s telling it and The Power of Point of View will help you determine which of your characters can make your story come to life

Fictions of Home Martin Mühlheim,2018-04-23 This study aims to counter right wing discourses of belonging It discusses key theoretical concepts for the study of home focusing in particular on Marxist feminist postcolonial and psychoanalytic contributions The book also maintains that postmodern celebrations of nomadism and exile tend to be incapable of providing an alternative to conservative xenophobic appropriations of home In detailed readings of one film and six novels a view is developed according to which home as a spatio temporal imaginary is rooted in our species being and as such constitutes the inevitable starting point for any progressive politics

The Twentieth-Century Spanish American Novel Raymond Leslie Williams,2009-07-21 A Choice Magazine Outstanding Academic Book Spanish American novels of the Boom period 1962 1967 attracted a world readership to Latin American literature but Latin American writers had already been engaging in the modernist experiments of their North American and European counterparts since the turn of the twentieth century Indeed the desire to be modern is a constant preoccupation in twentieth century Spanish American literature and thus a very useful lens through which to view the century's novels. In this pathfinding study Raymond L. Williams offers the first complete analytical and critical overview of the Spanish American novel throughout the entire twentieth century. Using the desire to be modern as his organizing principle, he divides the century's novels into five periods and discusses the differing forms that the modern took in each era. For each period Williams begins with a broad overview of many novels, literary contexts, and some cultural debates, followed by new readings of both canonical and significant non-canonical novels. A special feature of this book is its emphasis on women writers and other previously ignored and/or marginalized authors, including experimental and gay writers. Williams also clarifies the legacy of the Boom, the Postboom, and the Postmodern as he introduces new writers and new novelistic trends of the 1990s.

Formalist Elements in the Novels of Juan Goytisolo Genaro J. Pérez, 1979     Reign of Realism in Indian Philosophy R. Naga Raja Sarma, 1937     Bending Genre Margot Singer, Nicole Walker, 2013-03-14

Ever since the term creative nonfiction first came into widespread use, memoirists and journalists, essayists and fiction writers have faced off over where the border between fact and fiction lies. This debate over ethics, however, has sidelined important questions of literary form. Bending Genre does not ask where the boundaries between genres should be drawn, but what happens when you push the line. Written for writers and students of creative writing, this collection brings together perspectives from today's leading writers of creative nonfiction, including Michael Martone, Brenda Miller, Ander Monson, and David Shields. Each writer's innovative essay probes our notions of genre and investigates how creative nonfiction is shaped, modeling the forms of writing being discussed. Like creative nonfiction itself, Bending Genre is an exciting hybrid that breaks new ground.

What is Americanism?, 1924     The Nation, 1901     ART OF MARIANO AZUELA Eliud Martinez, 1980

Constituting a significant contribution to intellectual analysis of Mariano Azuela, this study and literary critique gives special attention to the Mexican novelist's more experimental works. The book identifies Mariano Azuela as the first modern Mexican novelist of the twentieth century and provides an in-depth look at the influences of the writer upon writing in Mexico as a whole.

Specter Or Delusion? Margaret Louise Carter, 1987     Urban Obsessions, Urban Fears John Roger Kurtz, 1998

Kurtz's analysis of the development of the Kenyan novel in English emphasizes the historical contingencies affecting the production of literature in Kenya and how succeeding generations have drawn from and expanded the thematic repertoire established by the first generation of works in the 1960s. He explores the relationship between the novel and the city and how obsessions and fears about the urbanization have been expressed and represented through different generations of Kenyan writers. Kurtz has also put together the first annotated bibliography of all the anglophone Kenyan novels that have appeared since Ngugi wa Thiong'o wrote Weep Not Child. Ngugi's Weep Not Child made an immediate impact on its publication in 1964. Since then, hundreds of novels by Kenyans have been published. This is a comprehensive introduction to the postcolonial novel in English. Three broad areas are identified: the first generation of the sixties, the golden age of the seventies, and the years after Kenyatta in the eighties and nineties A unifying feature is an uneasy but marked emphasis on the city particularly Nairobi The city is used by novelists as both the site and the symbol for a range of obsessions and fears about postcolonial society There is particular emphasis on the changing ways in which the city has been portrayed since Ngugi's first novel the relation of popular literature to the city the portrayal of women in the city and the special status of Meja Mwangi's urban novels
