On Ballycastle Beach:

On Ballycastle Beach Medbh McGuckian, 1988 On Ballycastle Beach Medbh McGuckian, 1995-01-01 Oceanic Connections Ellen Howley, 2025-09-15 Oceanic Connections is a first of its kind comparative study of Anglophone Irish and Caribbean poets who write widely about the sea revealing the similarities across the poetic traditions of both regions In turning to the sea Ellen Howley applies a blue humanities lens to the work of major poets from Ireland and the Anglophone Caribbean such as Derek Walcott Kamau Brathwaite Seamus Heaney and Medbh McGuckian She demonstrates how the sea is more than a backdrop or metaphor it is a generative space of creative and historical meaning Through careful analysis Howley shows how poets from these geographically distant but culturally resonant regions engage with the ocean s material realities and mythic depths Howley navigates between concrete maritime experiences sailors shipwrecks coastal labor and the sea s profound metaphorical potential Poets become cartographers of both physical and imaginative spaces mapping connections that span continents and centuries Oceanic Connections reveals how the ocean simultaneously represents historical trauma cultural memory and a site of transformative artistic expression Building on studies of Irish Caribbean connections by Michael Malouf Lee M Jenkins Stephanie Pocock Boeninger Allison Donnell Maria McGarrity and Evelyn O Callaghan this study furthers the comparative conversation through its emphasis on poetic resemblances illuminating surprising commonalities while honoring each tradition s unique voice Northern Irish Poetry and the Russian Turn S. Schwerter, 2013-02-07 Seamus Heaney Tom Paulin and Medbh McGuckian are the three most influential poets from Northern Ireland who have composed poems with a link to the Tsarist Empire and the Soviet Union Through their references to Russia the three poets achieve a geographical and mental detachment allowing them to turn a fresh eye on the Northern Irish situation Silence and Articulacy in the Poetry of Medbh McGuckian Maureen E. Ruprecht Fadem, 2019-12-03 Silence and Articulacy in the Poetry of Medbh McGuckian is an innovative contribution to the scholarship on Belfast poet Medbh McGuckian This book considers the entire oeuvre of this globally respected Irish woman writer a member of the contemporary avant garde with now fifteen U S published volumes and numerous individual publications The author positions McGuckian s oeuvre as political and historical poetry and offers a provocative new assessment of its crafted silences This work argues that it is the muted character of McGuckian s poems a consequence of a defamiliarized language the overwhelming sway of the image and a profusion of intertextual quoting that constitutes their agency and force The silences are read as a response to the precarious positionality of poet and speaker at the site of disaster and the limits of articulacy In line with Rukeyser s notion of the life of poetry the life of McGuckian s silences is located Fadem argues in the poems production as revealed self reflexively and in their prolonged consumption This oeuvre operates as a formidable counter discourse by converting poetry s reception into a much protracted task that redistributes the temporal economy of poem and reader and disrupts the given structures of time place and the order of things Medbh McGuckian Borbála

Faragó,2014-03-27 This book offers a wide ranging analysis of the entire corpus of Medbh McGuckian's published work. Its objective is to provide both a readable synthesis of existing criticism in a fashion which will be generally useful to academics and students and also to offer an original contribution to the field of contemporary Irish literary studies on the basis of new research. The book investigates a variety of previously neglected themes in particular McGuckian's exploration of ideas of creativity and performativity in her poetry. Over the past two decades McGuckian has been recognized by both her fellow poets and by literary critics as one of the most original, daring and important poetic voices in contemporary Ireland. Since 1982 she has published fifteen volumes of poetry extraordinary not merely for its sustained quality and linguistic and technical virtuosity but also for its constant evolution and reinvention. This book provides an original perspective on her work both thematically and methodologically. From a thematic perspective the process of artistic creation is a key preoccupation of McGuckian's poetry which recurs in every volume of her oeuvre but has previously escaped critical attention. By adapting and refining theories of singularity and creativity the book allows for a coherent analysis of this central aspect of McGuckian's work. Methodologically it differs from previous studies in the scope of its approach. Uniquely it pursues its investigation across the entire breadth of the poet's published output and emphasizes the thematic unity of individual volumes in the light of the poet's constant change and development. Throughout the book the reading of McGuckian's work concentrates on poems in their entirety, an approach which has not figured to any notable degree in the existing secondary literature on the poet, not least because of the perceived difficulty of her writing. A critical investigation however which respects both the integrity of the individual poems and the internal coherence of her various volumes allows for a far deeper understanding both of the poet's thematic preoccupations and of the evolution of her distinctive poetic voice.

The Chosen Ground Neil Corcoran,1992 For more than twenty years poetry from Northern Ireland has been amongst the most exciting in Britain. Beginning with Seamus Heaney a wave of young poets has explored the political situation there in invigorating and inventive style. The Chosen Ground explores this poetry and in particular the dual Irish and British context which lies at its heart. How does this hybrid heritage influence poets like Mahon, Muldoon and Montague? Is the term 'Irish Poet' a valid one? What does Michael Longley mean by the often recurring word 'home'? How do Heaney's terms 'place' and 'displacement' apply to his own work? Is Pauline's development of cultural analysis in poetry an effective response? This book offers new readings of poetry from Northern Ireland. It looks also behind the accepted literary historical context for further illuminating entries into the poetry from the classicism of Ovid to the theories of postmodernism.

Gender and Sexuality in Modern Ireland Anthony Bradley, Maryann Gialanella Valiulis,1997 This collection of essays focuses on issues of gender and sexuality in Irish history, biography, language, literature and drama. While the contributors employ a variety of methodological and critical perspectives, they share the conviction that the gendering of Ireland, not only of the nation but of actual Irish men and women, is a construction of culture and ideology and not simply one of nature.
