Jones and is an important contribution to Australia's recorded flora. The text provides details of when and where the taxa were named, etymology of the scientific names, used descriptions, distribution, habitats, and notes for the 1 710 taxa of Australian native orchids, more than twice the number covered in the original edition of the book in 1988 and 406 more species than detailed in the second edition published in 2006. Of these, about 1 470 taxa are terrestrials, 241 epiphytes or lithophytes, and six or seven exotic taxa have become naturalised.
