Mind Cure and Other Essays Philip Zenner,1912 Ordinary Parents Raising Extraordinary Children Lucie

LeBlanc,2019-07-09 We are on a quest in life and if we must achieve success then we have to first know who we are and what we want in life The journey to ultimate success in life is never an easy one There are often difficulties and challenges which are sometimes insurmountable Life does not require the most intelligent brains or the smartest minds to succeed but requires the determination to keep going in spite of the aches and the courage to overcome fears doubts and those challenges as well It requires positive thinking And once you discover who you are your gifts and talents and what you want in life you will almost certainly achieve success As a parent of young children there are two things that you must understand When a child is born the subconscious mind is wide open So everything the child hears sees tastes smells and touches are planted in their subconscious mind This goes on for four to five years until the conscious faculties have time to develop Whatever has been presented to the child's mind will eventually develop since the subconscious mind must accept everything that is presented to it it has no ability to reject It is the most important stage in life as it is during this time that the child is being conditioned The child's conditioning regarding the his or her confidence learning ability relationship building and concept of health and wealth will determine the child's future Our children are our future The future of our country and the world in general rests on their shoulders To help them thrive and take the world further in glory we must ensure that we teach them how to think and guide them in unleashing their full potential We must show them a world that is full of hope and opportunities for everyone to develop their gifts and to have a great impact To achieve such goals we too must have a positive mindset I will be honored to help you develop your mindset and guide you towards developing your children too

Conducting Effective Conferences with Parents of Children with Disabilities Milton Seligman,2000-03-11

Successful collaboration between teachers and parents can greatly enhance children's educational growth and development

This clearly written book provides teachers with the knowledge and skills needed to conduct effective conferences with parents of children with disabilities. Readers gain a solid understanding of the challenges that families face as a consequence of childhood disability, how family dynamics and roles are affected, and issues that are likely to arise in meetings with school professionals. Reviewing the basic elements of parent teacher conferencing, Seligman highlights ways to establish rapport with families, develop strong listening and responding skills, and engage parents who may feel anxious, frustrated, or angry. Also addressed are the specific requirements of the legally mandated Individualized Educational Program conference. Enhancing the book's utility are numerous concrete examples and sample parent teacher dialogues, as well as role play scenarios and exercises to build conferencing skills. The Appendix describes a range of disability related referral sources and publications suitable for recommendation to parents.
