L'univers Concentrationnaire:

Political Survivors Emma Kuby, 2019-03-15 In 1949 as Cold War tensions in Europe mounted French intellectual and former Buchenwald inmate David Rousset called upon fellow concentration camp survivors to denounce the Soviet Gulag as a hallucinatory repetition of Nazi Germany's most terrible crime In Political Survivors Emma Kuby tells the riveting story of what followed his appeal as prominent members of the wartime Resistance from throughout Western Europe united to campaign against the continued existence of inhumane internment systems around the world The International Commission against the Concentration Camp Regime brought together those originally deported for acts of anti-Nazi political activity who believed that their unlikely survival incurred a duty to bear witness for other victims Over the course of the next decade these pioneering activists crusaded to expose political imprisonment forced labor and other crimes against humanity in Franco's Spain Maoist China French Algeria and beyond Until now the CIA's secret funding of Rousset's movement has remained in the shadows Kuby reveals this clandestine arrangement between European camp survivors and American intelligence agents She also brings to light how Jewish Holocaust victims were systematically excluded from Commission membership a choice that fueled the group's rise but also helped lead to its premature downfall The history that she unearths provides a striking new vision of how wartime memory shaped European intellectual life and ideological struggle after 1945 showing that the key lessons Western Europeans drew from the war centered on the camp imagined first and foremost as a site of political repression rather than ethnic genocide Political Survivors argues that Cold War dogma and acrimony tied to a distorted understanding of WWII's chief atrocities overshadowed the humanitarian possibilities of the nascent anti-concentration camp movement as Europe confronted the violent decolonizing struggles of the 1950s      L'Univers

Concentrationnaire. A World Apart ... Translated by Yvonne Moyse and Roger Senhouse David Rousset, Yvonne MOYSE, Roger Senhouse, 1951      Palimpsestic Memory Max Silverman, 2013-02-01 The interconnections between histories and memories of the Holocaust colonialism and extreme violence in post-war French and Francophone fiction and film provide the central focus of this book It proposes a new model of palimpsestic memory which the author defines as the condensation of different spatio-temporal traces to describe these interconnections and defines the poetics and the politics of this composite form In doing so it is argued that a poetics dependent on tropes and techniques such as metaphor allegory and montage establishes connections across space and time which oblige us to perceive cultural memory not in terms of its singular attachment to a particular event or bound to specific ethno-cultural or national communities but as a dynamic process of transfer between different moments of racialized violence and between different cultural communities The structure of the book allows for both the theoretical elaboration of this paradigm for cultural memory and individual case studies of novels and films      L' Univers concentrationnaire Olga Wormser-Migot,      L'univers concentrationnaire Olga Wormser,1970      After the Deluge François Dosse,2004-11-17 Madame de Pompadour's famous quip 'Après nous le déluge' serves as fitting inspiration for this lively discussion of postwar French intellectual and cultural life. Over the past thirty years, North American and European scholarship has been significantly transformed by the absorption of poststructuralist and postmodernist theories from French thinkers. But Julian Bourg's seamlessly edited volume proves that historically speaking, French intellectual and cultural life since World War Two has involved much more than a few infamous figures and concepts. Motivated by a desire to narrate and contextualize the deluge of French theory, After the Deluge showcases recent work by today's brightest scholars of French intellectual history that historicizes key debates, figures, and turning points in the postwar era of French thought. Relying on primary and archival sources, contributors examine, among other themes, left-wing critiques of the Left, the internationalizing of thought, the institutional and affective conditions of cultural life, and the religious imagination. They revive neglected debates and figures and explore the larger impact of political quarrels. In an afterword, preeminent French historian François Dosse heralds the arrival of a new generation, a historiographical sensibility that brings fresh, original perspectives and a passion for French history to the contemporary French intellectual arena. After the Deluge adds significant depth and breadth to our understanding of postwar French intellectual and cultural history.

Concentrationary Memories Griselda Pollock, Max Silverman, 2015-08-25 Concentrationary Memories has as its premise the idea at the heart of Alain Resnais's film Night and Fog (1955) that the concentrationary plague unleashed on the world by the Nazis in the 1930s and 1940s is not simply confined to one place and one time but is now a permanent presence shadowing modern life. It further suggests that memory and indeed art in general must be invoked to show this haunting of the present by this menacing past so that we can read for the signs of terror and counter its deformation of the human. Through working with political and cultural theory on readings of film, art, photographic and literary practices, Concentrationary Memories analyses different cultural responses to concentrationary terror in different sites in the post-war period, ranging from Auschwitz to Argentina. These readings show how those involved in the cultural production of memories of the horror of totalitarianism sought to find forms, languages, and image systems which could make sense of and resist the post-war condition in which, as Hannah Arendt famously stated, everything is possible and human beings as human beings become superfluous. Authors include Nicholas Chare, Isabelle de la Court, Thomas Elsaesser, Benjamin Hannavy, Cousen, Matthew John, Claire Launchbury, Sylvie Lindeperg, Laura Malosetti, Costa, Griselda Pollock, Max Silverman, Glenn Sujo, Annette Wieviorka, and John Wolfe Ackerman.      After the Deportation Philip Nord, 2020-12-03 Examines the change in memory regime in postwar France from one centered on the concentration camps to one centered on the Holocaust.      L'univers concentrationnaire dans le système nazi, 2000      L'U.R.S.S. concentrationnaire Guy Vinatrel, 1949      L'art, le corps, le désir Jean-Olivier Majastre, 2008-09-01 Que cherche l'anthropologue? Entre mille indices, il détecte les constances, il coute le grand récit de l'espèce humaine en un mot il est frère de tout homme Jean Olivier Majastre est de cette trempe capable de nous décrypter la face cachée du tableau Cheminements certes mais sur ses pas nous redécouvrons avec jubilation un monde fantastique et quotidien le n tre      Sur "L'Univers concentrationnaire" Olivier Le Cour Grandmaison,2000      Exchange

,1980 A journal of opinion for the performing arts      André Chamson, 1900-1983 Peter D. Tame,2006      Literature in the Wake of the Holocaust Leon I. Yudkin,2003 Discusses literary works in several languages by survivors and by members of the second and third generations Parts of the book were published previously in different forms Includes chapters on Ka Tzetnik Abba Kovner Savyon Liebrecht David Grossman Jerzy Kosinski and Primo Levi the first and last chapters deal with general issues and later writers      Irma Grese et le procès de Belsen Didier Chauvet,2017-08-15 Jeune surveillante SS des camps de concentration nazis Irma Grese fut condamnée et morte par un tribunal militaire britannique en 1945 lors du procès de Belsen et pendue ensuite dans la prison de Hamelin Ce livre retrace le parcours personnel et professionnel de cette jeune femme ordinaire qui devint au cours de la tourmente nazie une tortionnaire exemplaire
