M25 Travelling Clockwise:

M25 Travelling Clockwise Roy Phippen, 2004 In the footsteps of the phenomenally successful A272 An Ode to a Road comes the definitive and quirky guide to everyone's favorite motorway. Ruined palaces, restored piggeries, secret bunkers and beautiful bridges are all a part of its history together with the people who live and work in them. Roy will show you where you are driving under a cricket pitch or over a river where Pepys had a breakdown in his new carriage and where more than one Earl of Essex lost his head. Nearly 200 color photographs including magnificent unpublished aerial views and oddities of all kinds together with specially drawn maps and diagrams make this the perfect book to have in any jam. Professor

Stewart's Cabinet of Mathematical Curiosities Ian Stewart, 2010-09-03 School maths is not the interesting part. The real fun is elsewhere. Like a magpie Ian Stewart has collected the most enlightening, entertaining and vexing curiosities of maths over the years. Now the private collection is displayed in his cabinet. There are some hidden gems of logic, geometry and probability like how to extract a cherry from a cocktail glass harder than you think, a pop up dodecahedron, the real reason why you can't divide anything by zero and some tips for making money by proving the obvious. Scattered among these are keys to unlocking the mysteries of Fermat's last theorem, the Poincaré Conjecture, chaos theory and the P NP problem for which a million dollar prize is on offer. There are beguiling secrets about familiar names like Pythagoras or prime numbers as well as anecdotes about great mathematicians. Pull out the drawers of the Professor's cabinet and who knows what could happen. Drive Iain Borden, 2013-02-15

The open road it's a phrase that calls to mind a sense of freedom, adventure and new possibilities that make driving one of our most liberating activities. In Drive Iain Borden explores the way driving allows us to encounter landscapes and cities around the world. He takes particular notice of how driving is portrayed in film from America to Europe to Asia and from Hollywood to the avant garde, covering over a century of history and referencing hundreds of movies. From the dusty landscapes of The Grapes of Wrath to the city streets of The Italian Job, from the aesthetic delights of Rain Man and Traffic to the existential musings of Thelma and Louise and Vanishing Point, from the freeway pleasures of Radio On and London Orbital to the high speed dangers of Crash, Bullitt and Cold Pursuit, Rendezvous this book shows how driving with different speeds, cars, roads and cities provides experiences and challenges beyond compare. Borden concludes that as an integral part of modern life, car driving is something to be celebrated and even encouraged, making Drive a timely riposte to anti-car attitudes and those blind to the richness of life behind the wheel. Landscape and Subjectivity in the Work of Patrick Keiller, W.G. Sebald, and Iain Sinclair David Anderson, 2020-08-27

This book situates the film maker Patrick Keiller alongside the writers W.G. Sebald and Iain Sinclair as the three leading voices in English psychogeography, offering new insights to key works including London, The Rings of Saturn and Lights Out for the Territory. Excavating social and political contexts while also providing plentiful close analysis, it examines the cultivation of a distinctive affective mode or sensibility especially attuned to the cultural anxieties of the twentieth century's closing decades. Landscape and Subjectivity explores motifs including essayism the reconciliation of creativity with market forces and the foregrounding of an often agonised or melancholic It asks whether the work can collectively be seen to constitute a critical theory of contemporary space and suggests that Keiller Sebald and Sinclair s contributions represent a highly significant moment in English culture s engagement with landscape environment and itself The book s analyses are fuelled by archival and topographical research and are responsive to various interdisciplinary contexts including the tradition of the English Journey the set of ideas associated with the spatial turn critical theory the so called heritage debate and more recent theorisation of the anthropocene

Travel in Towns Martin J.H. Mogridge,1990-07-19 This book offers a new look at the theory of traffic congestion in the light of recent reassessments of the extensive surveys in London of traffic plans and speeds and in particular of journey speeds by all forms of transport The issues have been heatedly debated in professional journals and at professional meetings since the policy conclusions are profound and far reaching involving a redirection of transport policy away from road building and towards improvement of public transport systems
