The Child in World Cinema Debbie Olson, 2018-02-19 This collection seeks to broaden the discussion of the child image by close analysis of the child and childhood as depicted in non Western cinemas Each essay offers a counter narrative to Western notions of childhood by looking critically at alternative visions of childhood that does not privilege a Western ideal Rather this collection seeks to broaden our ideas about children childhood and the child s place in the global community This collection features a wide variety of contributors from around the world who offer compelling analyses of non Western non Hollywood films starring children      Settler Colonialism in the Twentieth Century Caroline Elkins, Susan Pedersen, 2012-11-12 Postcolonial states and metropolitan societies still grapple today with the divisive and difficult legacies unleashed by settler colonialism Whether they were settled for trade or geopolitical reasons these settler communities had in common their shaping of landholding laws and race relations in colonies throughout the world By looking at the detail of settlements in the twentieth century from European colonial projects in Africa and expansionist efforts by the Japanese in Korea and Manchuria to the Germans in Poland and the historical trajectories of Israel Palestine and South Africa and analyzing the dynamics set in motion by these settlers the contributors to this volume establish points of comparison to offer a new framework for understanding the character and fate of twentieth century empires      A Writer's Topography Jason Herbeck, Vincent Grégoire, 2015-08-25 A Writer s Topography examines French Algerian Nobel Prize laureate Albert Camus s intimate yet often unsettled relationship with natural and human landscapes Much like the Greek hero Sisyphus about whom he wrote his famous philosophical essay Camus sustained a deep awareness of and appreciation for what he termed le visage de ce monde the face of this earth This wide ranging collection of essays by Camus scholars from around the world demonstrates to what extent topography is omnipresent in Camus s life and works Configurations and contemplations of landscape figure prominently in his fictional works on both a literal and figurative level from the earliest writings of his youth to his final unfinished novel Le Premier Homme Furthermore as a core component of the way in which Camus perceived conceived and expressed the human condition topography constitutes an over arching and particularly profound dimension of his personal public and philosophical thought      Decolonizing Memory Jill Jarvis, 2021-05-10 The magnitude of the legal violence exercised by the French to colonize and occupy Algeria 1830 1962 is such that only aesthetic works have been able to register its enduring effects In Decolonizing Memory Jill Jarvis examines the power of literature to provide what demographic data historical facts and legal trials have not in terms of attesting to and accounting for this destruction Taking up the unfinished work of decolonization since 1962 Algerian writers have played a crucial role in forging historical memory and nurturing political resistance their work helps to make possible what state violence has rendered almost unthinkable Drawing together readings of multilingual texts by Yamina Mechakra Waciny Laredj Zahia Rahmani Fadhma A th Mansour

Amrouche Assia Djebar and Samira Negrouche alongside theoretical juridical visual and activist texts from both Algeria's national liberation war 1954-1962 and war on civilians 1988-1999 this book challenges temporal and geographical frameworks that have implicitly organized studies of cultural memory around Euro American reference points Jarvis shows how this literature rewrites history disputes state authority to arbitrate justice and cultivates a multilingual archive for imagining decolonized futures

Remnants of the Franco-Algerian Rupture Mona El Khoury, 2020-09-28 At the end of French colonization in Algeria four categories of people held French citizenship or had strong ties with France European settlers Jews mixed race individuals and Harkis The end of the War of Independence exiled most of them from Algeria traumatized them in various ways and transferred many to metropolitan France Remnants of the Franco Algerian Rupture Archiving Postcolonial Minorities examines the legacies of these transnational identities through narratives that dissent from official histories both in France and Algeria This literature takes particular stories of exile and loss and constructs a memory around a Mosaic father figure embodying the native land Algeria Mona El Khoury argues that these filiation narratives create a postcolonial archive a discursive foundation that makes historical minorities visible while disrupting French and Algerian hegemonies El Khoury questions the power of literature to repair history while contending that these literary strategies seek to do justice to the dead Algerian father even as they valorize enduring minority identifications

Do the Americas Have a Common Literary History? Barbara Buchenau, Annette Paatz, 2002 This book is based on the assumption that the problem of American literatures written in European languages is not the burden of Europe but the fact that they are second or further literatures written in the same language as older ones that happen to be located in Europe The papers collected here address the following questions Is it possible for two or more distinct literatures to coexist in the same language If the distinction is more than merely ideological and convenient what are the differences and how did they come about Is it reasonable to assume that differentiation followed similar patterns in the various literatures The volume combines textual and theoretical studies of programmatic writings literary works and literary histories in English French and Spanish
