MacArthur And Sutherland The Good Years:

The Good Years Paul P. Rogers, 1990-06-27 The first volume of a two volume series this book begins the intimate first hand look at a relationship that shaped the history of World War II that of General Douglas MacArthur and his Chief of Staff Lieutenant General Richard Sutherland Written by their chief clerk Paul P Rogers this series focuses on the command structure that developed between MacArthur and Sutherland and how it changed as the war progressed Told from the vantage point of one who was there it presents new information about the operations of the General Headquarters for the Pacific during the war This first volume begins with the prewar careers of MacArthur and Sutherland continues through Pearl Harbor and Corregidor followed by the epic struggles of 1942 and concludes with the campaign at Buna The book presents information that challenges contradicts and compliments the two major biographies of MacArthur and presents new documents never before seen Rogers here writes of the good years in the first half of the Pacific campaign where MacArthur and Sutherland were maintaining a good although increasingly strained relationship Rogers tells of his own position as MacArthur and Sutherland are alienated from each other in the accelerating scope and speed of operations Bound to be one of the definitive works on World War II this book will prove unforgettable for anyone with an interest in United States and military history

The Bitter Years Paul P. Rogers, 1991 The second volume of a two volume set this book continues the intimate first hand look at a relationship that shaped the history of World War II that of General Douglas MacArthur and his chief of staff Lieutenant General Richard Sutherland Told from the vantage point of one who was there it presents new information about the operations of the General Headquarters for the Pacific during the war This volume begins with the battle at Buna which was a turning point in the war both strategically and psychologically and ends with the fall of Japan

World War II in the Pacific Stanley Sandler, 2003-12-16 Stanley Sandler one of America's most respected and best known military historians has brought together over 300 entries by some 200 specialists in the field to create the first encyclopedia specifically devoted to the Pacific Theatre of World War II Extending far beyond battles and hardware the coverage ranges from high policy making grand strategy and the significant persons and battles of the conflict to the organization of the Allied and Japanese divisions aircraft armor artillery psychological warfare warships and the home fronts covering the interactions of each topic along the way

Tucker, 2016-09-06 With more than 1 700 cross referenced entries covering every aspect of World War II the events and developments of the era and myriad related subjects as well as a documents volume this is the most comprehensive reference work available on the war This encyclopedia represents a single source of authoritative information on World War II that provides accessible coverage of the causes course and consequences of the war Its introductory overview essays and cross referenced A Z entries explain how various sources of friction culminated in a second worldwide conflict document the events of the war and why individual battles were won and lost and identify numerous ways the war has permanently changed the world The coverage addresses the individuals campaigns battles key weapons systems strategic decisions and technological developments of the conflict as well as the diplomatic economic and cultural aspects of World War II The five volume set provides comprehensive information that gives readers insight into the reasons for the war s direction and outcome Readers will understand the motivations behind Japan s decision to attack the United States appreciate how the concentration of German military resources on the Eastern Front affected the war s outcome understand the major strategic decisions of the war and the factors behind them grasp how the Second Sino Japanese War contributed to the start of World War II and see the direct impact of new military technology on the outcomes of the battles during the conflict The lengthy documents volume represents a valuable repository of additional information for student research

Fire and Fortitude John C. McManus, 2020-08-04 WINNER OF THE GILDER LEHRMAN PRIZE FOR MILITARY HISTORY An engrossing epic history of the US Army in the Pacific War from the acclaimed author of The Dead and Those About to Die This eloquent and powerful narrative is military history written the way it should be James M McPherson Pulitzer Prize winning historian Out here mention is seldom seen of the achievements of the Army ground troops wrote one officer in the fall of 1943 whereas the Marines are blown up to the skies Even today the Marines are celebrated as the victors of the Pacific a reflection of a well deserved reputation for valor Yet the majority of fighting and dying in the war against Japan was done not by Marines but by unsung Army soldiers John C McManus one of our most highly acclaimed historians of World War II takes readers from Pearl Harbor a rude awakening for a military woefully unprepared for war to Makin a sliver of coral reef where the Army was tested against the increasingly desperate Japanese In between were nearly two years of punishing combat as the Army transformed at times unsteadily from an undertrained garrison force into an unstoppable juggernaut and America evolved from an inward looking nation into a global superpower At the pinnacle of this richly told story are the generals Douglas MacArthur a military autocrat driven by his dysfunctional lust for fame and power Robert Eichelberger perhaps the greatest commander in the theater yet consigned to obscurity by MacArthur s jealousy Vinegar Joe Stillwell a prickly soldier miscast in a diplomat s role and Walter Krueger a German born officer who came to lead the largest American ground force in the Pacific Enriching the narrative are the voices of men otherwise lost to history the uncelebrated Army grunts who endured stifling temperatures apocalyptic tropical storms rampant malaria and other diseases as well as a fanatical enemy bent on total destruction This is an essential ambitious book the first of three volumes a compellingly written and boldly revisionist account of a war that reshaped the American military and the globe and continues to resonate today INCLUDES MAPS AND PHOTOS

Naval War College Review Naval War College (U.S.), 1993 Naval War College Review, 1993 The Journal of Military History, 2005 Encyclopedia of World War Two Spencer Tucker, Priscilla Mary Roberts, 2005 An unprecedented achievement in publishing a multivolume encyclopedic resource for both the general reader and specialist on the central conflict of the 20th century The Encyclopedia of World War II covers the entire scope of the Second World War from its earliest roots to its continuing impact on global politics and human society

War by Stealth Alan Powell, 1996 The intriguing and daring story of the Australian coast watchers in New Britain and the Solomon Islands during World War II is fairly well known but they were part of a wider organisation The Allied Intelligence Bureau was General MacArthur's intelligence special operations and field propaganda unit in the Pacific War 1942-45 The AIB was unique in its multinational composition Under American leadership it included British Dutch Australian New Zealand and Canadian members although many of the leaders and most of the field operatives were Australian Its area of operations stretched from New Guinea to the Solomon Islands and from Indonesia including Borneo to the Asian mainland Using much newly released formerly secret archival material from Britain the USA and Australia this new full scale study of the AIB examines for the first time relations between operatives and native peoples a relationship critical for the success or failure of missions that were often appallingly dangerous It also lays bare the power struggles within the organisation itself conflicts over national military and personal interests that were constant and intense heightened by the conduct of war at a time that was without doubt the most desperate in Australian history

American Foreign Relations Since 1600 Robert L. Beisner, 2003 A thorough update of the standard bibliography of American foreign relations literature from colonial times to the present day America has formed alliances exchanged diplomats traded goods and services and fought wars with nations on every continent but Antarctica And people have written books articles reports and papers by the thousands on these subjects In American Foreign Relations since 1600 the 2002 president of the Society for Historians of American Foreign Relations Robert Beisner has worked with members of SHAFR to compile the most exhaustive survey of writing on American foreign relations ever published Covering 400 years of American history his team of editors all top experts in the field have referenced and annotated nearly 20 000 published and nonpublished works It's all here from the Mayflower Compact to the My Lai massacre from the War of 1812 to the war on terrorism from the pre Revolutionary era to the post Cold War world Nearly 20 000 fully annotated bibliographical entries on topics such as the Mexican Revolution pan Americanism wartime diplomacy the German threat and more A preface clearly outlining the updated features of the book Three analytical indexes to guide users to entry information contributors and significant individuals Biographical studies on individuals such as John Barrett William Jennings Bryan and Theodore Roosevelt

MacArthur's Airman Thomas E. Griffith, 1998 Thomas Griffith offers a critical assessment of George C Kenney's numerous contributions to MacArthur's war efforts He depicts Kenney as a staunch proponent of airpower's ability to shape the outcome of military engagement and a commander who shared MacArthur's strategic vision

Oboe One, Tarakan, 1945 Peter Stanley, 2025-07-02 In 1945 the small island of Tarakan off Borneo's coast became the unlikely stage for one of the Second World War's most gruelling campaigns. As part of General Douglas MacArthur's plan to liberate the Netherlands Indies, Australian soldiers launched Operation Oboe One, a mission to capture Tarakan's airstrip. What was meant to last three weeks stretched into two months of bitter jungle warfare, claiming 240 Australian lives and 1 500 Japanese defenders. The airstrip's strategic goal faltered, but the courage and sacrifice of those who fought there remain untold. Through vivid narratives and exhaustive research, Oboe One brings this obscure battle to life, uncovering the grit and camaraderie of the Second Australian Imperial Force. These citizen soldiers faced dense jungles, hidden mines, and relentless enemy fire, embodying professionalism and resilience in the war's final days. Their experiences reveal not just the hardships of combat but the unique ethos of a generation shaped by a vanished Australia, an era of robust, unpolished camaraderie and quiet determination. This compelling account revisits Tarakan through the eyes of its participants and confronts lingering questions about the campaign's necessity: Was it a strategic misstep or a justified sacrifice within the larger Pacific war effort? Tarakan challenges readers to remember the forgotten honour of the fallen and understand the extraordinary men whose lives were forever marked by this brutal campaign. For those seeking to explore the human cost of war, Tarakan is an essential tribute to courage, leadership, and the enduring echoes of an extraordinary Australian legacy. Airpower Journal, 1999

Air Power History, 2001 From Four Nodes of History J. M. Villero, 2013 Delves into the four main traditions that helped shape the contours of the Philippine security sector: its armed forces and national police, the Spanish colonial legacy, the Moro legacy, the Katipunan revolutionary legacy, and the American imperial legacy. Page 4 of cover The Southwest Pacific Campaign, 1941-1945 Eugene L. Rasor, 1996-09-24 Providing comprehensive coverage of the literature on the Southwest Pacific Campaign of World War II, this book includes both a historiographical narrative and an annotated bibliography of over 1500 entries. Part I, the historiographical narrative, includes a general survey and review of the works listed in Part II, the annotated bibliography. The historiographical survey features critical analysis and an evaluation of the literature, making an effort to place each work in context and also pointing to gaps in the literature. The bibliography section includes descriptive and evaluative annotations. Works cited in Part I are cross-referenced to Part II. The book reviews, evaluates, and integrates a comprehensive collection of popular and scholarly literature on the Southwest Pacific Campaign. Coverage includes operations in all dimensions: land, sea, air, underwater, and combinations of these. The work covers personnel and their experiences and includes memoirs, diaries, autobiographies, biographies, and oral histories. It also covers intelligence matters, diplomacy, logistics, and supply, and cultural aspects such as journalism, fiction, film, and art. Available archival research and library facilities and materials are also described. There is an introductory historical essay, a chronology, and comprehensive indexes. Journal of American Studies, 1994
