MacArthur in Asia Hiroshi Masuda, 2012-10-05 General Douglas MacArthur's storied career is inextricably linked to Asia His father Arthur served as Military Governor of the Philippines while Douglas was a student at West Point and the younger MacArthur would serve several tours of duty in that country over the next four decades becoming friends with several influential Filipinos including the country's future president Emanuel L. Quezon In 1935 he became Quezon's military advisor a post he held after retiring from the U S Army and at the time of Japan's invasion of 1941 As Supreme Commander for the

Southwest Pacific MacArthur led American forces throughout the Pacific War He officially accepted Japan's surrender in 1945 and would later oversee the Allied occupation of Japan from 1945 to 1951 He then led the UN Command in the Korean War from 1950 to 1951 until he was dismissed from his post by President Truman In MacArthur in Asia the distinguished Japanese historian Hiroshi Masuda offers a new perspective on the American icon focusing on his experiences in the Philippines Japan and Korea and highlighting the importance of the general's staff the famous Bataan Boys who served alongside MacArthur throughout the Asian arc of his career to both MacArthur's and the region's history First published to wide acclaim in Japanese in 2009 and translated into English for the first time this book uses a wide range of sources American and Japanese official records and oral histories to present a complex view of MacArthur one that illuminates his military decisions during the Pacific campaign and his administration of the Japanese Occupation With MacArthur in Japan William Joseph Sebald, Russell Brines, 1965 General MacArthur's political advisor describes the problems and policies of the Army in Japan and events which led to MacArthur's dismissal by President Truman Soldier of God Ray A. Moore, 2011 Soldier of God is a study of General Douglas MacArthur's effort to influence the religious life of Japan by suppressing native religions and enabling the propagation of Christianity in that country during the American occupation 1945-1952 As Supreme Commander of the Allied Powers SCAP MacArthur said it was his duty as a Soldier of God and of the Republic to fill the moral vacuum in Japan by restoring and reviving religion After an introduction to Japan's prewar encounter with Christianity this study focuses on four major issues Part One describes the efforts of the Foreign Missions Conference FMC of the American Council of Churches to resume proselytizing in postwar Japan The FMC arranged with the American government to send a church delegation to Japan and President Truman gave a letter to the church leaders addressed to Emperor Hirohito Part Two explores the delegates' meetings with MacArthur Emperor Hirohito Japan's prime minister and Japanese Christian leaders Convinced that Japan was a fertile field for propagating Christianity the FMC in the U.S. laid plans for sending missionaries to support MacArthur's scheme for Christianizing Japan Part Three explores the Imperial family's apparent interest in Christianity The empress took Bible lessons and the crown prince now emperor studied English and the Bible with an American Quaker woman The book presents evidence that the major concern of Imperial advisers and staff was to save Emperor Hirohito from trial as a war criminal Part Four examines MacArthur's policy of using the Christian community to counter the growing influence of Communism in Japanese schools He supported the creation of a new International Christian University to oppose leftist influence among Japan's youth This book makes an important contribution to the ongoing study of MacArthur the Occupation and Christianity in Japan Japan's Denial and MacArthur's Secret Deal Mac Horino, 2004-09 Japan's Denial MacArthur's Secret Deal is a socio-cultural analytical approach to bottom out the cause and effect of what Japan has become today and her current societal dysfunction beyond economic crisis Japan's Denial MacArthur's Secret Deal is to unveil the kept secret of Japan when supreme Commander of Allied Powers General

Douglas MacArthur summoned Emperor Hirohito to GHQ right after Japan accepted an unconditional surrender. The socio cultural analysis examines the unexpected opportunity MacArthur created for the post war Japan as a result of his fateful decision and looks into her formative years as a modern nation to explain how Japan developed a collective unconscious national character disorder which has led both to her success as the world second economy and as her failure to develop a post World War II socio cultural identity. The analysis depicts the inner working of Japanese psyche and emotion. To them Japan is in spite of all these exposure a nation of contradiction and duality.

Supreme Commander Seymour Morris, 2014-04-22. A blend of political history and military biography examining General Douglas MacArthur's role in rebuilding Japan following World War II. Seymour Morris captures MacArthur's brilliant method of command at once judicious imperious and humble. A very readable and instructional treatment of a misunderstood figure. Evan Thomas author of Ike's Bluff. He is the most decorated general in American history the only five star general to receive the Medal of Honor. Yet Douglas MacArthur's greatest victory was not in war but in peace. As Supreme Commander for the Allied Powers in postwar Japan General Douglas MacArthur was charged with transforming the defeated militarist empire into a beacon of peace and democracy a task he called the greatest gamble ever attempted. A career military man MacArthur had no experience in politics diplomacy or economics. Vain reclusive and self centered he had many enemies in Washington who considered him a flaming peacock. Few thought he could succeed not even President Harry Truman's closest advisors. But MacArthur did succeed brilliantly defying timetables and expectations. He announced eleven objectives and achieved them all establishing a bond between two countries that survives to this day. Supreme Commander combines political history and military biography to tell for the first time how MacArthur achieved a nation building feat never before attempted nor replicated since. Seymour Morris Jr reveals this flawed man at his best as one who treated a defeated enemy with respect made informed thoughtful decisions yet could also be brash and stubborn when necessary leading the occupation with intelligence class and compassion. Reviewing MacArthur's key tactical choices and accomplishments Morris presents a detailed intimate portrait of a great American a patriot and a man of strong conviction who proved to be an outstanding and effective leader under extraordinary circumstances. Morris tells in dramatic detail how this ultimate warrior almost overnight became the ultimate peacemaker turning devastated militarized Japan into a functioning democracy in five years without firing a shot. James Bamford author of Body of Secrets and The Shadow Factory. With entertaining prose and good research Morris shows how MacArthur brilliantly midwived devastated Japan's rebirth as a modern democratic state a task that required executive and diplomatic skill. John Steele Gordon author of Empire of Wealth. A fascinating study of the greatest success of Douglas MacArthur one of the most consequential and controversial Americans of the twentieth century. Gautam Mukunda author of Indispensable When Leaders Really Matter.

The story of Japan is no longer if it was ever the delicate words and prints of the travel literature of the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries

A scheme for ruling the world has been followed by a costly war the war by unconditional surrender the surrender by occupation

From these tumbling events is emerging the new story with characters and plots aplenty in the stark sometimes terrifying and always swiftly moving drama of Japan today

It has all the makings of a novel
