The Machine in the Garden : Technology and the Pastoral Ideal in America Jr. Professor of American Cultural History in the Program in Science Leo Marx William R. Kenan, Technology and Society Massachusetts Institute of Technology, 1967-12-31 For over four decades Leo Marx's work has focused on the relationship between technology and culture in 19th and 20th century America His research helped to define and continues to give depth to the area of American studies concerned with the links between scientific and technological advances and the way society and culture both determine these links The Machine in the Garden fully examines the difference between the pastoral and progressive ideals which characterized early 19th century American culture and which ultimately evolved into the basis for much of the environmental and nuclear debates of contemporary society This new edition is appearing in celebration of the 35th anniversary of Marx's classic text It features a new afterword by the author on the process of writing this pioneering book a work that all but founded the discipline now called American Studies Rereading the Machine in the Garden Eric Erbacher, Nicole Maruo-Schröder, Florian Sedlmeier, 2014-11-06 The volume reexamines the trope of the intrusive machine and the regenerative pastoral garden laid out fifty years ago by Leo Marx in The Machine in the Garden one of the founding texts of American Studies Contributions explore the lasting influence of the trope in American culture and the arts rereading it as a dialectics where nature is as much technologized as technology is naturalized They trace this dialectic trope in filmic and literary representations of industrial bureaucratic and digital gardens they explore its function in the aftermath of the civil war the rural electrification during the New Deal in landscape art and in ethnic literatures and they discuss the historical premises and lasting influence of Leo Marx's seminal study The Machine in the Garden Leo Marx (historien).), 1976 The Machine in the Garden Leo Marx, 1970 The Garden, 1878 The Garden Magazine, 1910 The Machine in the University Terry S.
