India's Indigenous Immigrants Subir, We have grown up in a country where we were taught a distorted history and some essential segments of our yesteryear have been obscured Consequently we were wronged and we wronged others unwittingly Knowing our factual past is therefore vital to understanding the aberrations that make our present problematic This book attempts to sensitise people on some crucial chapters of India which have either been misrepresented or blurred

The Indian state of Assam has been distressed by several historical deceptions for over a century now which have remained unaddressed. Thus despite being one of the most fascinating territories inhabited by incredibly charming people, Assam is often in the national and international news mostly for the wrong reasons. A case in point is a 1983 American magazine editorial in The New Republic that reportedly wrote inter alia: 'There are places the Indian state of Assam is one where the slaughter of children is a form of political expression'. The caustic comment was made in an apparent reference to the 1983 broad daylight Nellie massacre killing countless newborns, toddlers, babies, infirm females, aged people and others indiscriminately in six hours of mayhem in the village on 18th February 1983. Dissemination of factual awareness about the disinformation spread earlier by British colonial rulers concerning the history of eastern India is therefore essential to end the present conflicts between the various communities and tribes of the region. With meticulous research backed by years of personal experience, septuagenarian author Subir wrote this book aiming to permeate ordinary peoples much needed understanding of past realities and the prevalent circumstances that should help usher in peace and prosperity promptly in Assam. Nobody's Child Elizabeth Dejeans, 2020-07-31. Reproduction of the original Nobody's Child by Elizabeth Dejeans.

The Beatles, Mary Elizabeth Braddon Anne-Marie Beller, 2012-11-02. An important figure in the development of crime fiction, Mary Elizabeth Braddon (1835-1915) wrote more than 80 novels, numerous plays, poems, essays and short stories and edited two magazines during her 55-year literary career. Her bestselling Lady Audley's Secret secured her reputation as a leading sensation novelist. Though critics called her work immoral, Braddon's novels influenced the detective fiction of the late Victorian period. With entries on all her published writing, characters, relationships and influences, and themes and contexts as well as numerous illustrations, a career chronology and a chronological and alphabetical listing of all of her works, this companion to Braddon's mystery fiction is the definitive reference on this provocative but overlooked writer.

Nobody's Child Monica Helene Thomas, 2015-07-20. Lizzy, as a child, lived in poverty. Her mother was a single parent who did whatever was necessary for them to survive. Now that Lizzy has turned nineteen, she goes off to college. She ends up getting pregnant from some guy whom she knows means her no good. Now Lizzy is left facing a very tough decision on whether or not she should keep this baby. Monica Helene Thomas is a book author of several other fiction, short stories and novels. My Brother's Keeper, What a Crooked Web, We Weave It, Never Amount to Nothing, So You Say and A Friend's Betrayal are just among her published works. She's a television pilot writer and an inventor. If you would like to view a virtual presentation of this really amazing product that she had invented, go online to <http://youtu.be/FR9LJE0AsK4>. Postwar Continuity and New Challenges in Central Europe, 1918-1923 Tomasz Pułocki, Kamil Ruszała, 2021-09-30. This book presents a multi-layered analysis of the situation in Central Europe after the collapse of the Austro-Hungarian Empire. The new geopolitics emerging from the Versailles order and at the same time ongoing fights for borders, considerable war damage, social and economic problems and replacement of administrative staff as well as leaders all contributed to the fact that unlike

Western Europe Central Europe faced challenges and dilemmas on an unprecedented scale The editors of this book have invited authors from over a dozen academic institutions to answer the question of to what extent the solutions applied in the Habsburg Monarchy were still practiced in the newly created nation states and to what extent these new political organisms went their own ways It offers a closer look at Central Europe with its multiple problems typical of that region after 1918 organizing the post imperial space a new political discourse and attempts to create new national memories the role of national minorities solving social problems and verbal and physical violence expressed in public space Particular chapters concern post 1918 Central Europe on the local state and international levels providing a comprehensive view of this sub region between 1918 and 1923      Love is a beautiful thing American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers,1952
