Noir Anxiety:

Noir Anxiety Kelly Oliver, Benigno Trigo, 2003 Among the elements that define the classic film noir chiaroscuro lighting voice over narration and such archetypal characters as the world weary private eye and the femme fatale perhaps no element is more responsible for the genre's continued popularity among movie buffs filmmakers and critics than the palpable sense of anxiety that emanates from the screen Because the genre emerged in the shadow of the Second World War this profound psychological and philosophical unease is usually ascribed either to postwar fears about the atomic bomb or to the reactions of returning soldiers to a new social landscape In Noir Anxiety however Kelly Oliver and Benigno Trigo interpret what has been called the free floating anxiety of film noir as concrete apprehensions about race and sexuality Applying feminist and postcolonial psychoanalytic theory to traditional noir films Murder My Sweet The Lady from Shanghai Vertigo and Touch of Evil and the neo noirs of the 1970s 1980s and 1990s Chinatown Devil in a Blue Dress and Bound the authors uncover a rich array of unconscious worries and desires about ambiguous sexual racial and national identities often displaced onto these films narrative and stylistic components In particular Oliver and Trigo focus on the looming absence of the mother figure within the genre and fears about maternal sexuality and miscegenation Drawing on the work of Freud and Julia Kristeva Noir Anxiety locates film noir's studied ambivalence toward these critical themes within the genre's social historical and cinematic context

Noir Anxiety Kelly Oliver, 2003 Kierkegaard and Climate Catastrophe Isak Winkel Holm, 2023 This volume argues for the relevance of Kierkegaard's employment of the prophetic noir modelled after the prophetic books of the Hebrew Bible to understanding how to live in a time of climate change What Price Hollywood? Elyce Rae Helford, 2020-06-23 During the early Hollywood sound era studio director George Cukor produced nearly fifty films in as many years famously winning the Best Director Oscar at the 1964 Academy Awards for My Fair Lady His collaborations with so called difficult actresses such as Katharine Hepburn Judy Garland and Marilyn Monroe unsettled producers even as his ticket sales lined their pockets Fired from Gone with the Wind for giving Vivien Leigh more screen time than Clark Gable Cukor quickly earned a double sided reputation as a woman's director While the label celebrated his ability to help actresses deliver their best performances the epithet also branded the gay director as suitable only for work on female centered movies such as melodramas and romantic comedies Desperate for success after a failed drag film nearly ended his career Cukor swore to work within Hollywood's constraints Nevertheless What Price Hollywood Gender and Sex in the Films of George Cukor finds that Cukor continued to explore gender and sexuality on screen Drawing on a broad array of theoretical lenses Elyce Rae Helford examines how Cukor's award winning films titles including My Fair Lady and The Philadelphia Story as well as his lesser known films engage Hollywood masculinity and gender performativity through camp drag and mixed genres Blending biography with critical analysis of more than twenty five films What Price Hollywood tells the story of a once in a generation director who produced some of the best films in history Planet Utopia Mark Featherstone, 2017-02-17 The key figure of the capitalist utopia is the individual who is ultimately free The capitalist s ideal society is designed to protect this freedom However within Planet Utopia Utopia Dystopia Globalisation Featherstone argues that capitalist utopian vision which is most clearly expressed in theories of global finance is no longer sustainable today This book concerns the status of utopian thinking in contemporary global society and the possibility of imagining alternative ways of living outside of capitalism Using a range of sociological and philosophical theories to write the first intellectual history of the capitalist utopia in English Featherstone provokes the reader into thinking about ways of moving beyond this model of organising social life through sociological modes of thought Indeed this enlightening volume seeks to show how utopian thinking about the way people should live has been progressively captured by capitalism with the result that it is difficult to imagine alternatives to capitalist society today Presenting sociology and sociological thinking as a utopian alternative to the capitalist utopia Planet Utopia will appeal to postgraduate and postdoctoral students interested in subjects including Sociology Social Theory Cultural Studies Cultural Theory and Continental Philosophy One Hundred Film Noirs Jim Hillier, Alastair Phillips, 2009-05-18 Film noir s popularity with cinema audiences enthusiasts and scholars has remained unabated since post war French critics began discerning a new trend in American film with the release of such stylish and atmospheric crime features as Double Indemnity and Murder My Sweet Many of Hollywood s greatest directors such as Fritz Lang and Robert Siodmak are now closely associated with film noir s psychologically acute observations of the darker contours of the American urban landscape Thanks to evocative cinematography sharp writing and powerful performances these films have had an enduring influence on international visual culture 100 Film Noirs provides an authoritative overview of film noir past and present by examining its core films and themes and providing an accessible introduction to critical debates The book goes beyond the classical canon to examine the ways in which noir continues to have a diverse influence on American cinema It demonstrates the way that noir has intervened in other more established Hollywood genres and also considers numerous lesser known examples of the field Importantly 100 Film Noirs has a strong international dimension and provides new and revealing insights into film noirs from France Germany Japan India Mexico and beyond Projecting Paranoia Ray Pratt, 2001 A wide ranging and idiosyncratic look at sixty years of politics and film that uncovers how American movies have mirrored and even challenged anxieties and paranoid perceptions embedded in American society since the start of the Cold War The first book to take a sweeping look at 60 years of film and analyze them thematically Odds Against Tomorrow Abraham Polonsky, 1999 One of the finest examples of screenwriting at its most provocative and passionate this edition of Odds Against Tomorrow belongs in the library of every serious film lover and student of the American experience Transfigurations Asbjørn Grønstad, 2008 In many senses viewers have cut their teeth on the violence in American cinema from Anthony Perkins slashing Janet Leigh in the most infamous of shower scenes to the 1970s masterpieces of Martin Scorsese Sam Peckinpah and Francis Ford Coppola to our present day undertakings in imagining global annihilations through terrorism war and alien grudges Transfigurations brings our cultural obsession with film violence into a renewed dialogue with contemporary theory Grnstad argues that the use of violence in Hollywood films should be understood semiotically rather than viewed realistically Tranfigurations thus alters both our methodology of reading violence in films and the meanings we assign to them depicting violence not as a self contained incident but as a convoluted network of our own cultural ideologies and beliefs

Close-up 03 John Gibbs,2009 Men s Cinema focuses on how film style conveys and articulates a sense of masculinity It examines the use of mise en scene in classical cinema to emphasize the frequently repressed traumas of masculinity The book then analyzes a selection of such contemporary men s films as Once Upon a Time in the West 1968 Raging Bull 1980 The Right Stuff 1983 and Gladiator 2000 Cineaction! ,1987 Postmodern

Critical Theory and the Object Nature of the Cultural Commodity Nancy Owens,1992 Movies and the Modern Psyche Sharon Packer,2007-09-30 By looking at the interactions between cinema and psychology Packer offers readers clear and basic insights into some of the most fundamental reasons why film is such an important influence upon our lives today Movies and the Modern Psyche first describes the basic concepts of psychoanalysis experimental psychology behavioral conditioning and hypnosis which have all played major roles in the histories of both film and psychiatry It then goes on to discuss the recent rise in film therapy drug treatments treatment for drug abuse and the closing of asylums to show how shifts in treatment techniques theories and settings are foreshadowed and fossilized by film Psychology and cinema are kindred cousins born at the same time and developing together so that each influences the other From the mind controlling villains that occupy early horror films and Cold War thrillers like Caligari Mabuse and The Ipcress File to the asylums that house numberless political allegories and personal dramas in Shock Corridor Spellbound One Flew over the Cuckoo s Nest and Girl Interrupted to the drugs phobias and disorders that pervade so many of our favorite films including as a small sample Vertigo Night of the Hunter Psycho Rainman Fight Club Requiem for a Dream and Batman Begins there is no escaping either psychology in the movies or the movies in psychology By looking at the interactions between cinema and psychology this book offers readers clear and basic insights into some of the most fundamental reasons why film is such an important influence upon our lives today Movies and the Modern Psyche first describes the basic concepts of psychoanalysis experimental psychology behavioral conditioning and hypnosis which have all played major roles in the histories of both film and psychiatry It then goes on to discuss the recent rise in film therapy drug treatments treatment for drug abuse and the closing of asylums to show how shifts in treatment techniques theories and settings are foreshadowed and fossilized by film
