Noparty Democracy In Uganda:

No-party Democracy in Uganda Justus Mugaju, Joseph Oloka-Onyango, 2000 The continuation of no party democracy has been constitutionalised by the Constituent Assembly of Uganda causing great controversy The 1995 constitution provided for a referendum to be held in the year 2000 to enable Ugandans to revisit the question of political systems and choose between multiparty no party and any other form of democracy The eight contributors including Professor Ali Mazrui examine the case for and against multipartyism the justification for no party democracy as well as its myths and realities and the wider ideological implications of movement politics in the Great Lakes region They also explore the possibilities of bridging the gap between movementists and multipartyists in order to adopt a political system based on the widest consensus possible among the people in Uganda No-party Democracy?, 2008 Are political parties an essential element of democracy Or can a no party system constitute a viable democratic alternative Giovanni Carbone examines the politics of Museveni's Uganda to illustrate the achievements contradictions and limitations of participatory politics in the absence of partisan organizations At a time when multiparty reforms were sweeping the globe Uganda opted for a controversial no party democratic model The country's politics over the past two decades thus provide the perfect opportunity for addressing the many questions theoretical empirical and comparative that the notion of a no party system of elected government raises Carbone's analysis of how a no party electoral regime actually works or doesn't in Uganda fills a gap in both democracy studies and the study of African politics Publisher description No-party Democracy Olive Furley, James Katalikawe, 1999 Ethnic Party Bans in Africa Matthijs Bogaards, Matthias Basedau, Christof Hartmann, 2013-09-13 In Sub Saharan Africa the spread of democracy since the 1990s has been accompanied by the proliferation of bans on ethnic political parties A majority of constitutions in the region explicitly prohibit political parties to organize on the basis of race ethnicity religion region and other socio cultural attributes More than a hundred political parties have been dissolved suspended or denied registration on these grounds This book documents the experience with ethnic party bans in Africa traces its origins examines its record and answers the question whether ethnic party bans are an effective and legitimate instrument in the prevention of ethnic conflict This book was published as a special issue of Democratization Autocratization in Contemporary Uganda Moses Khisa, 2024-01-11 Autocratization in Contemporary Uganda analyses two interrelated outcomes autocratisation manifest in the deepening of personalist rule or Musevenism and the regime resilience that has made Museveni one of Africa's current longest surviving rulers How has this feat been possible and what has been the trajectory of Museveni's increasingly autocratic rule Surveying that trajectory since 1986 the book takes as its primary focus the years since 2005 bringing to the fore the autocratic turn placing it within a broader comparative lens and enriching it with comparative references to cases outside of Uganda While positing the notion of autocratic adaptability as a defining hallmark of Museveni's rule the book examines the factors and forces that have made that adaptability possible analysing the dynamics around three key themes: institutions, resources and coalitions. Through empirical research, each chapter seeks to demonstrate how either one or two of these three variables have functioned in propelling autocratization and assuring regime resilience, producing theoretical and comparative implications that reach beyond Uganda.

Elections in Museveni's Uganda Sam Wilkins, Richard Vokes, 2018-12-07 Uganda's 2016 elections, which returned thirty-year incumbent President Yoweri Museveni and his National Resistance Movement (NRM) to yet another landslide, took place in an atmosphere of patronage, coercion and fraud. But is this diagnosis sufficient to understand the processes of voting and regime maintenance in Uganda today? Based on a series of detailed case studies from across Uganda, this book provides a more nuanced and complex picture of what the Museveni regime is and how it keeps winning elections. Whilst not denying that various electoral malpractices are systemic to the regime's survival, the authors find that these cannot be extricated from Uganda's history, its wider social realities and its local political cultures in which the NRM has become so embedded. In so doing, the authors, who include anthropologists, development specialists, historians, geographers and political scientists, develop new ways of thinking about the meaning of voting and elections in non-democratic Uganda and elsewhere. This edition was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Eastern African Studies.

Democratization in Africa Larry Jay Diamond, Marc F. Plattner, 1999 The country-specific chapters serve to underline the differences between African democracy and liberal democracy, yet some authors are at pains to emphasize that whatever their limitations, African democracies are an advance over what had gone before.

Comparing No-party Participatory Regimes Mose Auyeh, 2008

Democratic Transitions in East Africa F. Wafula Okumu, 2019-07-16 Originally published in 2004, Genocide in Rwanda, massive floods of refugees and displaced people in the Horn of Africa, violent civil wars in the West African countries of Sierra Leone and Liberia: these are testimonies to the tremendous cost to grassroots communities when the authority and legitimacy of national political systems and leaders are called into question. The consolidation of democracy represents one tangible strategy to restore authority and legitimacy of political rule, providing the peace and security necessary for political enfranchisement and economic opportunity. This volume explores the factors that are crucial to the emergence of democratic political systems on the African continent, specifically focusing on Kenya, Tanzania and Uganda. It highlights the political challenges facing these countries during this crucial transition period and provides insights that are applicable to other countries engaged in this process in Africa and beyond.

Negative Ethnicity Koigi Wa Wamwere, 2011-01-04 Negative ethnicity is Koigi wa Wamwere's name for the deep-seated tensions in Africa that the world has seen flare so terrifyingly. The genocide in Rwanda and ethnic killing in the Democratic Republic of Congo, Nigeria and elsewhere stand out as examples. Wa Wamwere argues that these clashes cannot properly be described as ethnically motivated; ethnicity is a positive distinction, has nothing of the hatred here at work. Negative Ethnicity gives a new picture of the force behind untold deaths on the continent, dispelling the myth of an intractable conflict waged along simple ancient lines. Negative Ethnicity explains the roots, colonial and pre colonial of the current ethnic tensions It goes on to describe how for most Africans ethnic identity is ambiguous and analyzes why that fact is obscured The culprits are many chronic poverty a broken education system preying dictators corrupt officials the colonial legacy of hate the ongoing exploitation of the West Negative Ethnicity is both a history and a manual for change intended to introduce Westerners to the crisis and to give Africans a new understanding of it Perhaps never before has the problem been addressed with such clarity and insight The Uganda Journal ,2007 East African Journal of Peace & Human Rights ,2008 The Economist ,1894 Ethnicity, State Power, and the Democratisation Process in Uganda Juma Okuku,Juma Okuku Anthony,2002 Dialogue on the Constitution Review Process in Uganda ,2001 Debating Form and Substance in Africa's New Governance Models Joseph Oloka-Onyango,2007 This book is the outcome of a conference on Africa s new models of governance held in Uganda in 2006 The discussion focused on four thematic areas the concept and practice of democracy the language and rhetoric of politics electoral processes in Africa and the sources of political legitimacy Contents Assessing Africa s new governance models Adebayo Olukoshi Legal perspectives on the search for legitimacy in African governance systems Mulela M Munalula Reflections on the language and logic of good governance and its application in the African context Cheryl Hendricks In search of legitimate governance and electoral substance from theory to practice Onalenna D Selolwane Constitutional engineering and elections as sources of legitimacy in post Cold War America Kassahun Berhanu Electoral processes in Uganda from individual merit to multi party democracy Sallie K Simba Bananas and oranges ethnicity and failed constitutional reform in Kenya Karuti Kanyinga Sustainable electoral process and governance in Africa some lessons from Ghana Felix K G Anebo Democratic governance in Africa towards common values and standards Eddy Maloka Not yet democracy not yet peace assessing rhetoric and reality in contemporary Africa Joe Oloka Onyango Books abstract Africa Special Report ,1993 Uganda's Fundamental Change Aaron K.
