Olivia New Works:

The Shadow of the Scorned Digna E. Gonzalez, 2008-10 This is a novel based on a true story The story is about Olivia She was born as a result of a brutal rape of her mother at fifteen years of age Olivia grew up in unbelievable poverty surrounded by sexual physical and verbal abuse from her uncle and stepfather But nothing stopped this little girl from dreaming big dreams and becoming exactly what she desired This is her amazing journey under the most difficult and unimaginable circumstances and her resolve to overcome all All the broken pieces of her shattered life came together when she met her Savior at the age of twenty eight Her life turned around and became an instrument to help others Digna Gonzalez was born in a small village in Central America After suffering most of her life through a series of disappointing events she attempted suicide four times but was miraculously saved each time She came to the United States with two small children and while pregnant with her third child She continued to struggle until she became a Christian and then things started to turn around She married a music pastor and together they became a team and have ministered to hundreds of men and women Digna published her first book of poems in 1999 and in 2003 she released her first CD Inspiraciones Inspirations Together with her husband Digna started Inspiraciones net a website to inspire and motivate others to dream big and never give up Digna has appeared on radio and television and has traveled to California Texas Mexico Guatemala and Honduras She has ministered inner healing in family retreats and at other events She now spends most of her time writing as well as sharing with her husband in churches and special events Biennial Report Minnesota. Communication as Organizing Francois Cooren, James R. Taylor, Elizabeth J. Van Every, 2013-09-13 Communication as Organizing unites multiple reflections on the role of language under a single rubric the organizing role of communication Stemming from Jim Taylor s earlier work The Emergent Organization Communication as Its Site and Surface LEA 2000 the volume editors present a communicational answer to the question what is an organization through contributions from an international set of scholars and researchers The chapter authors synthesize various lines of research on constituting organizations through communication describing their explorations of the relation between language human practice and the constitution of organizational forms Each chapter develops a dimension of the central theme showing how such concepts as agency identity sensemaking narrative and account may be put to work in discursive analysis to develop effective research into organizing processes The contributions employ concrete examples to show how the theoretical concepts can be employed to develop effective research This distinctive volume encourages readers to discover and develop a truly communicational means of addressing the question of organization addressing how organization itself emerges in the course of communicational transactions In presenting a single and entirely communicational perspective for exploring organizational phenomena grounded in the discourse of communicational transactions and the establishment of relationships through language it is required reading for scholars researchers and graduate students working in organizational communication management
