Ormer Shell:

The Seashore Francis Martin Duncan,1912      Channel Island Marine Molluscs Paul Chambers,2008 This ground breaking book is the first guide to cover all 479 species of marine mollusc known from Jersey Guernsey Alderney Sark Herm and their associated islets It covers all the familiar seashells as well as more unusual forms including sea slugs nudibranchs cephalopods squid etc scaphopods and chitons As well as offering descriptions and illustrations a wealth of historical scientific and anecdotal information is provided plus advice on the collection study and identification of specimens This is the first guide of its kind and it will be of interest to naturalists conchologists zoologists or for anyone with a passing interest in the natural history of the Channel Islands and the English Channel

British Seashells Paul Chambers,2010-03-10 Using original Victorian prints by collectable artist George Sowerby marine biologist and author Paul Chambers has produced the first comprehensive guide to shells for over a century The original prints are intricately detailed much better than photographs which lack the exact detail of these drawings and are a selling point in themselves but will be complemented by informative but accessible text including families and to show what's edible dangerous or belongs to mollusc families and in what part of the country they can be discovered A delightful study by the leading expert and a must for anyone interested in learning more about shells or who just enjoys beachcombing with the family
