Hating America Barry Rubin, Judith Colp Rubin, 2004-08-26 Reviled as an imperialist power an exporter of destructive capitalism an arrogant crusader against Islam and a rapacious over consumer casually destroying the planet it seems that the United States of America has rarely been less esteemed in the eyes of the world In such an environment one can easily overlook the fact that people from other countries have in fact been hating America for centuries Barry Rubin and Judith Colp Rubin here draw on sources from a wide range of countries to track the entire trajectory of anti Americanism With this powerful work the Rubins trace the paradox that is America a country that is both the most reviled and most envied land on earth In the end they demonstrate anti Americanism has often been a visceral response to the very idea as well as both the ideals and policies of America itself its aggressive innovation its self confidence and the challenge it poses to alternative ideologies

Crossing Barriers and Bridging Cultures Arturo Tosi, 2003 This text presents translators from different linguistic backgrounds discussing multilingual translation in the European Union All articles stress the political dimension of multilingualism and the professional role of the translator as communicator on which much of the credibility of a union speaking with one voice in many languages will ultimately depend
