Shubert, Kei Yamamoto, 2021-03-20 The wish to affiliate with a specific cultural social or ethnical group is as important today as it was in past societies such as that of the ancient Egyptians. The same significance applies to the self presentation of an individual within such a group. Although it is inevitable that we perceive ancient cultures through the lens of our time place and value systems we can certainly try to look beyond these limitations. Questions of how the ancient Egyptians saw themselves and how individuals tried to establish and thus present themselves in society are central pieces of the puzzle of how we interpret this ancient culture. This volume focuses on the topic of identity and self presentation tackling the subject from many different angles: the ways in which social and personal identities are constructed and maintained; the manipulations of culture by individuals to reflect real or aspirational identities; and the methods modern scholars use to attempt to say something about ancient persons. Building on the work of Ronald J Leprohon to whom this volume is dedicated, contributions in this volume present an overview of our current state of understanding of patterns of identity and self presentation in ancient Egypt. The contributions approach various aspects of identity and self presentation through studies of gender literature material culture mythology names and officialdom.

Joint Acquisitions List of Africana, 1962 Cult and Ritual in Persian Period Egypt Fatma Talaat Ismail, 2019-10-15 Ancient Egyptian temple walls expressed royal and political ideologies reflected the ancient Egyptian secular and spiritual world order supplied a medium for the reenactments of assorted myths and implied a metaphor for the universe. The Temple of Hibis is one of the most important temples from Late Period Egypt. Despite the conventional overall architecture plan of the temple it exhibits numerous particularities. While the more prominent parts of the temple such as the sanctuary have been studied by numerous scholars in other areas the decoration schemes remain largely unexplained. This book focuses on the decorative schemes of several chapels in the earlier part of the temple: chapels that were either established and/or were decorated during the first Persian Period 525-404 BCE. These chapels were located around the main sanctuary A but have rarely been the subject of scholarly discussions. It concentrates on a few chapels of the Temple of Hibis: chapels F and G to the south of sanctuary A on the first level of the temple and all the decorated chapels E1, E2, H1 and H2 on the second level of the temple. Each chapter begins with a brief description of the scenes and their basic layout and a complete translation of the accompanying texts. A more in depth analysis regarding both text and image follows in the commentary. It includes the analysis of the different aspects of the gods: their origins and the development of their cults that are significant to the scenes and to each other. Also discussed are their coherence, any aspects that are especially emphasized and any other information that could be gleaned from the whole scene. The analysis tries to detail the specific composition that makes up the mosaic of the picture wall or room. Attention is paid to both the scenic arrangement and the hieroglyphic inscriptions as the interpretation of one would be meaningless without the other. Attention is given to investigating the general function of the different rooms by means of their decoration and by identifying the patterns or important themes generated by the layout of the scenes. The results are summarized in the last chapter A number of line drawings have been inserted into the text beside a described scene as an aid to the reader The Mystical Pleasures of Chocolate Ronn Edmundson, 2000-12-14 Since I have been a lover and student of chocolate since birth I have looked at the seductive high gloss covers for books dedicated to the use of chocolate for desserts What has drawn me to those books has been the eye arresting graphic designs lettering and rich provocative dark and milk chocolate jackets Since my book explores the metaphoric and symbolic quality of chocolate women then the analogy works perfectly on multiple levels of meaning For example according to chocolate connoisseurs chocolate was the food of the mythic gods of the Mayans and Aztecs Moreover the sun played a dynamic role in the germination of this plant that eventually became the rage of Europe and then America Like chocolate chocolate women come in a spectrum of flavors colors textures sounds and scents Moreover gentlemen who have made it their life s work to know the spectrum of chocolate tend to become chocolate connoisseurs Hence my meditations celebrate the spectrum of chocolate women who are works of art
