Noonkanbah Whose Land Whose Law:

Aratjara ,2022-07-04 ARATJARA is the first collection of essays on Australian Aboriginal culture published and edited from Germany A group of internationally renowned scholars and specialists in their fields have contributed original essays on political and cultural aspects of Aboriginal life today These various essays treat the struggle of Aboriginal peoples for land rights their music and their achievements in theatre in literature and in the creation of Aboriginal literary discourses as well as Aboriginal film and television productions and the representation of Australia s indigenous peoples in the white media Among Aboriginal writers who have contributed to ARATJARA are the politician Neville T Bonner the dramatist Bob Maza the story teller David Mowaljarlai and the poet Lionel Fogarty who has been called the most authentic Aboriginal voice among writers using English as their medium of creative expression The volume is dedicated to Oodgeroo formerly Kath Walker 1920 1993 one of the foremost Aboriginal political and cultural personalities and also contains a number of poems by Lionel Fogarty 'Every Mother's Son is Guilty' Chris Owen,2016 This is a marvellous contribution by Chris Owen to the understanding of the role the Western Australian police force played in the colonial expansion into the Kimberley district of Western Australia Senator Patrick Dodson Yawuru Elder Chris Owen provides a compelling account of policing in the Kimberley district from 1882 when police were established in the district until 1905 when Dr Walter Roth s controversial Royal Commission into the treatment of Aboriginal people was released Owen s achievement is to take elements of all the pre existing historiography and test them against a rigorous archival investigation In doing so a fuller understanding of the complex social economic and political changes occurring in Western Australia during the period are exposed The policing of Aboriginal people changed from one of protection under law to one of punishment and control The subsequent violence of colonial settlement and the associated policing and criminal justice system that developed often of questionable legality was what Royal Commissioner Roth termed a brutal and outrageous state of affairs Every Mother s Son is Guilty is a significant contribution to Australian and colonial criminal justice history Subject History Aboriginal Studies Criminal Justice policing

Speaking Out of Turn Charles Manning Hope Clark,Manning Clark,1997 This fascinating book brings together forty two selected speeches and lectures by Professor Manning Clark They range over fifty years from What of Germany delivered in 1940 to the last delivered in 1991 just before his death at the launch of Barry Humphries book The Life and Death of Sandy Stone and reveal recurring themes as well as developments in Clark s thinking In one sense they are all of a piece They reflect the values aspirations regrets and laughter of one passionate and intelligent man In another they change and develop during the course of that man s intellectual and emotional career In early manhood he analysed issues and problems ruthlessly in terms of his own values In middle life he portrayed men and women and expounded ideas from a historical perspective Towards his end the elegiac mood prevailed and he sought not always successfully to speak as a life affirmer and to regard all men and women and events with the eye of pity A History of Australia Volumes 1 and 2 Earliest Times 1838 deals with the pre white settlement era and the earliest years of European colonisation through to the establishment of an increasingly settled society and the expeditions of the great inland explorers Community Futures, Legal Architecture Marcia Langton, Judy Longbottom, 2012-05-31 How are indigenous and local people faring in their dealings with mining and related industries in the first part of the 21st century The unifying experience in all the resource rich states covered in the book is the social and economic disadvantage experienced by indigenous peoples and local communities paradoxically surrounded by wealth producing projects Another critical commonality is the role of law Where the imposition of statutory regulation is likely to result in conflict with local people some large modern corporations have shown a preference for alternatives to repressive measures and expensive litigation Ensuring that local people benefit economically is now a core goal for those companies that seek a social licence to operate to secure these resources There is almost universal agreement that the best use of the financial and other benefits that flow to indigenous and local people from these projects is investment in the economic participation education and health of present generations and accumulation of wealth for future generations There is much hanging on the success of these strategies it is often asserted that they will result in dramatic improvements in the status of indigenous and local communities What happens in practice is fascinating as the contributors to this book explain in case studies and analysis of legal and economic problems and solutions Noonkanbah Steve Hawke, Michael Gallagher, 1989 It looks like there s two laws white man law and Aboriginal law Now this is the way we are thinking to pull the white man from the ears to listen to what the Aboriginal Law will say Dicky Skinner Noonkanbah 1978 Australian National Bibliography, 1978 The Australian Year Book of International Law ,1990 Annual survey of current problems of public and private international law with a digest of Australian practice Law Journal ,1991 The Australian People James Jupp, 2001-10 Australia is one of the most ethnically diverse societies in the world today From its ancient indigenous origins to British colonisation followed by waves of European then international migration in the twentieth century the island continent is home to people from all over the globe Each new wave of settlers has had a profound impact on Australian society and culture The Australian People documents the dramatic history of Australian settlement and describes the rich ethnic and cultural inheritance of the nation through the contributions of its people It is one of the largest reference works of its kind with approximately 250 expert contributors and almost one million words Illustrated in colour and black and white the book is both a comprehensive encyclopedia and a survey of the controversial debates about citizenship and multiculturalism now that Australia has attained the centenary of its federation Indigenous Legal Issues Heather McRae, Garth Nettheim, Laura Beacroft, 1997 Who's who of Australian Writers ,1995 Australian International Law Journal ,1994 History and Native Title Christine Choo, Shawn Hollbach, 2003 This volume on the history of native title in Western Australia includes Aboriginal perspectives on native title alongside those of oral historians historians lawyers and practitioners in the field The Process of Law in Australia Greta Bird, 1993 Second edition of a 1988 text for law students which takes into account Aboriginal and immigrant cultures and Australian and legal history to explain issues and features of the Australian legal system New material includes changes in workers compensation law and the Mabo case Contains bibliography and index The author is Director of the National Centre for Cross Cultural Studies in Law at the University of New England Oyster Janette Turner Hospital, 2017-01-01 From the acclaimed author of Due Preparations for the Plague comes a powerful Australian story Stories do insist on being told Even the stories of hidden lives and towns and opal reefs By cunning intention and sometimes by discreet bribery or other dispatch of government surveyors the opal mining town Outer Maroo has kept itself off maps And yet people do stumble into town because the seduction of nowhere is hard to resist two strangers reach Outer Maroo searching for a stepdaughter and son who have mysteriously disappeared there is a heavy guilty feeling to the hot parched dry town Mercy Given and Old Jess everyone calls her Old Silence watch from Ma and Bill Beresford s store On the verandah of Bernie s Last Chance the drinkers wait to take stock of the foreigners before they return to their cattle properties or their sheep stations or to their stake outs in the opal fields Dukke Prophet crosses the street from the Living Word Gospel Hall Young Alice Godwin whimpers Outer Maroo Population 87 Here two opposing cultures the rough diamond boozing fiercely individualistic bush folk and the teetotaler church going fundamentalists used to coexist peaceably Until the arrival of the cult messiah Oyster Third World Week ,1990 Labour History ,1989 Aboriginal History ,1997 Zeitschrift für ausländisches öffentliches Recht und Völkerrecht ,1999 Aboriginal Affairs 1967-2005 Max Griffiths, 2006 Almost 40 years after the referendum which gave the Commonwealth rather than the various states power to make laws covering the Aboriginal people of Australia there is little evidence that any real progress has been made towards bettering the Aborigines position The key issue during this time has been the battle for Aboriginal land rights Despite High Court decisions on two cases favoring the Aborigines cause any real benefit to them has been largely negated by prolonged litigation over granting title and by arguments as to whether the land in question should be used for economic benefit or simply retained for cultural preservation Much attention and considerable financial resources have also been directed to Aboriginal health where traditional areas of health concern have been replaced with problems such as alcoholism Successive federal governments have devised numerous policies and programs intended to give Australia s Aboriginal peoples the right to self determination and have provided large sums to make this possible On some occasions these policies have been replaced within twelve months indicating their lack of success Aboriginal Affairs is a detailed and objective account from the time of the referendum of 1967 and argues the case for a total overhaul of government policies and programs
