Moon Our Nearest Celestial Neighbour:

The Moon Zdeněk Kopal, 1963 The Moon, Our Nearest Celestial Neighbour Zdeněk Kopal, 1960 The Moon, 1963 S.Chand's Science For Class-8 B.K. Gowel & Sangeeta, Illustrations and photographs are given to elucidate comprehension of key concepts Extra learning material has been added under Additional Learning to teach wider aspects of the basic concepts The Moon. Our Nearest Celestial Neighbour. Second Edition Zdeněk Kopal, 1963 S. Chand's Science For Class 8 B.K.GOWEL, S Chand's Science is series of three books for Classes 6 to 8 based on CBSE curriculum The books have been written in simple and lucid language so that students can understand complex scientific concepts easily

The Moon Zdenek Kopal, 2012-12-06 A favourable reception of the first edition of this book due no doubt to the nature of its subject which went out of print in 2 years gave its author a welcome opportunity to update at present its contents This was all the more necessary as seldom in the annals of science has our knowledge of the physics and astronomy of the Moon made greater progress than during this time The real heroes of this advance have of course been the spacecraft 33 of which have now been sent out since 1959 to reconnoiter our satellite at a close range The hard landers among them just about delivered their message by the time when the first edition of this book went to the press but it was the soft landers and orbiters which followed in their wake between 1966-67 that became really the principal contributors to lunar research By now that it may be both timely and their programmes have likewise been completed so opportune to take stock of the present state of our subject now on the eve of the next stage of lunar exploration by manned landings on the surface of our satellite which can be expected to take place in the very near future The aim of the second edition of this book will be to provide the requisite information brought up to date in an organized manner The Moon in the Post-Apollo Era Zdenek Kopal, 2012-12-06 The aim of the present book will be to summarize the results of the space exploration of the Moon in the past fifteen years culminating in the manned Apollo missions of 1969-1972 on the background of our previous acquaintance with our satellite made in the past by astronomical observations at a distance Astronomy is one of the oldest branches of science conceived by the inquisitive human mind though until quite recently it had been debarred from the status of a genuine experimental science by the remoteness of the objects of its study With the sole exception of meteoritic matter which occasionally finds its way into our laboratories all celestial bodies could be investigated only at a distance namely from the effects of attraction exerted by their mass or from the ciphered messages of their light carried by nimble footed photons across the intervening gaps of space A dramatic emergence of long range spacecraft capable of carrying men with their instruments not only outside the confines of our atmosphere but to the actual surface of our nearest celestial neighbour has since 1957 thoroughly changed this time honoured picture In particular as we shall detail in Chapter 1 of this book space astronomy of the Moon is barely 15 years old But relative infant as it is by age it has already provided us with such a tremendous amount of new and previously inaccessible scientific data as to virtually revolutionize our subject
