Learning to Teach Mathematics in the Secondary School Sue Johnston-Wilder, Clare Lee, David Pimm, 2016-09-13

Learning to Teach Mathematics in the Secondary School combines theory and practice to present a broad introduction to the opportunities and challenges of teaching mathematics in the secondary school classroom. This fourth edition has been fully updated to reflect the latest changes to the curriculum and research in the field, taking into account key developments in teacher training and education, including examinations and assessment. Written specifically with the new and student teacher in mind, the book covers a wide range of issues related to the teaching of mathematics, such as why we teach mathematics, the place of mathematics in the National Curriculum, planning, teaching and assessing for mathematics learning, how to communicate mathematically using digital technology to advance mathematical learning, working with students with special educational needs post 16, teaching the importance of professional development, the affective dimension when learning mathematics, including motivation, confidence and resilience. Already a major text for many university teaching courses, this revised edition features a glossary of useful terms and carefully designed tasks to prompt critical reflection and support thinking and writing up to Masters Level. Issues of professional development are also examined, as well as a range of teaching approaches and styles, from whole class strategies to personalised learning, helping you to make the most of school experience during your training and beyond. Designed for use as a core textbook, Learning to Teach Mathematics in the Secondary School provides essential guidance and advice for all those who aspire to be effective mathematics teachers.

The Mathematical Gazette, 1990 Teaching in Lifelong Learning 3e A guide to theory and practice James

Avis, Roy Fisher, Ron Thompson, 2018-11-29. Addressing the Professional Standards for Teachers and Trainers, this bestselling textbook helpfully balances theory and practice, introducing key theories and concepts relating to learning and assessment, as well as providing practical advice on teaching. Extensively revised and updated to reflect the current educational policy environment, this textbook for teaching provides thorough and extensive coverage of the topics for higher level awards in Education and Training. The textbook provides a logical progression through the essential aspects of teaching, such as planning and assessment. It considers key related areas, including teacher professionalism, equality and diversity, and mentoring and coaching, and it presents this invaluable guidance in an accessible and readable format. In outlining the challenges, opportunities and debates in and around lifelong learning, the editors and contributing authors draw on their extensive teaching experience, as well as offering an evidence based approach with a wide range of research. Teaching in Lifelong Learning: A Guide to Theory and Practice is core reading for those teaching or preparing to teach in further, higher and community education, as well as in public sector contexts and in private training organisations, including those studying for CertEd, PGCE and related awards, such as the Level 4 Certificate and Level 5 Diploma in Education and Training.
