The moral basis of Fielding's art Martin Carey Battestin,1959      The Moral Basis of Fielding's Art. A Study of Joseph Andrews Martin Carey BATTESTIN,1959      Theory and the Novel Jeffrey Williams,1998-12-03 Narrative features such as frames digressions or authorial intrusions have traditionally been viewed as distractions from or anomalies in the narrative proper In Theory and the Novel Jeffrey Williams exposes these elements as more than simple disruptions analysing them as registers of narrative reflexivity that is moments that represent and advertise the functioning of narrative itself Williams argues that narrative encodes and advertises its own functioning and modal form He takes a range of novels from the English canon Tristram Shandy Joseph Andrews The Turn of the Screw Wuthering Heights Lord Jim and Heart of Darkness are amongst the novels examined and shows how narrative technique is never beyond or outside plot He poses a series of theoretical questions such as about reflexivity imitation and fictionality to offer a striking and original contribution to readings of the English novel as well as to discussions of theory in general      The Sanctification of Don Quixote Eric Ziolkowski,2008-01-18 Ziolkowski explores the religious implications of the figure of Don Quixote in Western literature from Cervantes to the present While scholars and critics in the past have often called attention to the secularizing tendency of modern literature to the numerous fictional adaptations of the Christ figure on the one hand and the innumerable literary descendants of Don Quixote on the other this study is the first to examine a lineage of characters in whom the images of the alleged savior and the mad knight are combined After considering Don Quixote as the first modern novel and taking into account its relationship to religion society and censorship in seventeenth century Spain Ziolkowski traces the history and fate of Don Quixote the character through a series of religious transformations over the centuries focusing on three novels that adapt the Quixote figure Henry Fielding s Joseph Andrews Fyodor Dostoevsky s The Idiot and Graham Greene s Monsignor Quixote Ziolkowski argues that given the increased secularization and decline of religious consciousness over the last several centuries any pursuit of religious values or ideas becomes questionable and this appears quixotic insofar as it stands in contradiction to the sociohistorical context He concludes that religious existence for the few who pursue it in suffering which means that the religious person feels temporally displaced for adhering to a seemingly obsolete faith and lifestyle

Latitudinarianism and Didacticism in Eighteenth-century Literature Patrick Müller,2009 The relationship between Latitudinarian moral theology and eighteenth century literature has been much debated among scholars However this issue can only be tackled if the exact objectives of the Latitudinarians moral theology are clearly delineated In doing so Patrick Müller unveils the intricate connection between the didactic bias of Latitudinarianism and the resurgent interest in didactic literary genres in the first half of the eighteenth century His study sheds new light on the complex and contradictory reception of the Latitudinarians controversial theses in the work of three of the major eighteenth century novelists Henry Fielding Laurence Sterne and Oliver Goldsmith      A Literary History of England Tucker Brooke,Matthias A.

Shaaber,1959-03-31 First Published in 1959 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company The Cervantean Heritage J. A. Garrido Ardila,2017-12-02 Many critics regard Cervantes's Don Quixote as the most influential literary book on British literature. Indeed the impact on British authors was immense as can be seen from 17th century plays by Fletcher, Massinger and Beaumont through the great 18th century novels of Fielding, Smollett, Sterne and Lennox and on into more modern and contemporary novelists. 20th century critics fascinated by Cervantes were moved to write what we now see as the classical works of Cervantes scholarship. Through their previous publications the eminent contributors to this volume have helped to determine the reception of Cervantes in Britain. Together they now offer a comprehensive and innovative picture of this topic discussing the English translations of Cervantes's works, the literary genres which developed under his shadow and the best known authors who consciously emulated him. Cervantes's influence upon British literature emerges as decidedly the deepest of any writer outside of English and very possibly of any writer since the Renaissance.

The Literary History of England Donald F. Bond, G. Sherburne, 2003-09-02 English historians in the Middle Ages is an overview of the history of English historians and their works in the Middle Ages. English historians helped lay the groundwork for modern historical methodology, provided vital accounts of the early history of England, its culture and revelations about the historians themselves. The most remarkable period of historical writing was during the High Middle Ages in the 12th and 13th centuries when English chronicles produced works with a variety of interest, wealth of information and amplitude of range. However, one might choose to view the reliability.

The Literary History of England T. Brooke, M.A.

Shaaber, 2026-02-02 This is Volume II of five on a series providing a comprehensive history of the literature of England. Volume II looks at the Renaissance period 1500-1660, covering the Elizabethan, Jacobean and Restoration periods. It includes the writings of Green, Edmund Spenser, Christopher Marlowe, Shakespeare, Bason, Wilton and Milton.

Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature: Volume 2, 1660-1800 George Watson, Ian R. Willison, 1971-07-02 More than fifty specialists have contributed to this new edition of volume 2 of The Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature. The design of the original work has established itself so firmly as a workable solution to the immense problems of analysis, articulation and coordination that it has been retained in all its essentials for the new edition. The task of the new contributors has been to revise and integrate the lists of 1940 and 1957 to add materials of the following decade to correct and refine the bibliographical details already available and to reshape the whole according to a new series of conventions devised to give greater clarity and consistency to the entries.
