(Willia Bennett, 1995    The Moral of the Story John H. Lockwood, 1999 The problem this project attempts to solve is to develop a workable moral education in light of the clash between religious forms of moral education and U S Supreme Court decisions concerning them The concept of story and storytelling has been suggested as a unifying focus for disparate prescriptions for moral education Several recent approaches to moral storytelling have been proposed The approaches of William Bennett Nel Noddings and Herbert Kohl are among those which have attempted to combine moral education and storytelling within the last decade Bennett is identified with other theorists whose primary concern is the moral content of a story Noddings is identified as a process theorist whose primary concern is the process of moral storytelling not the content Kohl is identified as a reflection theorist whose approach challenges tradition in the hope of creating a more moral society Each one of these three approaches attempts to provide a comprehensive program of moral education but they fall short of that goal The purpose of this project then is to construct a storytelling moral education program that improves upon earlier approaches Using the three levels of moral thinking posited by R M Hare a three level approach to moral storytelling is proposed The intuitive critical and meta ethical levels of moral thinking that

Hare refers to are used to frame a new three level approach to moral storytelling The three level approach combines content process and reflection into a unified prescription for moral education Thus a more comprehensive plan for moral education through storytelling is developed one that respects traditional forms of moral education while remaining within the parameters set by the U S Supreme Court Preparing Students for Life Beyond College Robert J. Peterson,2001 With All Your Mind makes a compelling case for the value of thinking deeply about education in America from a historically orthodox and broadly ecumenical Christian point of view Few people dispute that education in America is in a state of crisis But not many have posed workable solutions to this serious problem Michael Peterson contends that thinking philosophically about education is our only hope for meaningful progress In this refreshing book he invites all who are concerned about education in America to participate in his study which analyzes representative theories and practical strategies that reveal the power of Christian ideas in this vital area Peterson addresses the most fundamental questions facing educators and society in general such as What is the purpose of education What goals do new techniques and methods serve What kind of person is our educational system supposed to produce He also explores questions of unique importance to Christians such as What is the relation between Christianity and the pursuit of intellectual excellence How can Christians bring their faith to bear on all areas of knowledge Can educated Christians significantly influence culture With All Your Mind examines the key assumptions and implications of influential classical and contemporary philosophies with respect to education including idealism naturalism Thomism experimentalism existentialism linguistic analysis and postmodernism Based on this analysis Peterson develops an unapologetically Christian philosophy of education in regard to curriculum design instilling ethics and values and the nature of teaching and learning Peterson further advances the merits of an ecumenical Christian philosophy of education by showing how it can be used to analyze key issues in educational theory such as the relation of general education to liberal learning the integration of faith and learning and the demand for professional and technical training From a practical standpoint Peterson s approach brings balance and common sense to issues such as the clash between public and private education the rise of multiculturalism the changing demographic and psychological profile of America s youth and the impact of computer and Internet technology With All Your Mind concludes with a stirring vision for education that is embedded in an all encompassing Christian view of life Using clear jargon free language Peterson teaches a good deal of basic philosophy while developing a powerful argument for the value of liberal arts education iinteracting with Christian faith at all levels of schooling
